Eisenhower Halts Vacation To Study Integration Issue

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower planned today to interrupt his vacation for a Washington conference on integration as the involved racial problem brought mounting tension in some sections of the South.

The President was scheduled to confer with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers at the White House.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said only that they would discuss "various matters before the courts on the subject of integration."

The most pressing matter now before the courts is the impending U.S. Supreme Court ruling on whether integration at Central High School at Little Rock, Ark., should be started when classes open Sept. 15 or delayed 2½ years. Oral arguments before the court are set for Thursday.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said Friday night he felt the feeling against racial mixing at Little Rock was much stronger and deeper than a year ago, and apparently was a result of the troubles at that time.

The governor said in a recorded interview from Washington that he would close Central High rather than obey any Supreme Court mandate to mix the races there immediately.

"If you have to use force to integrate, it means it cannot be done peaceably," he said. "I am unalterably opposed to forced integration."

In Georgia, a Superior Court judge warned that if FBI agents investigate his court and its actions "in any high-handed and menacing manner I will not hesitate to put them in the common jail of the county."

Judge Walter I. Geer issued the statement at his Colquitt home after learning federal officials had filed a civil rights suit against three Terrell County voter registrars and two deputy registrars he had appointed.

The suit—first test of the 1957 civil rights act—charged the registrars with discriminating against prospective Negro voters in the Terrell County seat of Dawson, in south Georgia.

The judge termed the suit "arrogant, unwarranted and high-handed." Then, acting on a request from the registrars, he ordered them not to furnish any documents under their control to federal agencies unless they are ordered by a court for use as evidence.

He also directed the sheriff to employ as many deputies as necessary to enforce the order and to protect the registrars in performing their duties.

In another Deep South state, Alabama, the segregationist police commissioner of Montgomery paid an integration leader's $14 fine.

Clyde Sellers, a member of the pro-segregation Citizens Council, said he paid the fine because he felt the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was trying to "further his self-assumed role as a martyr, and also to boost the sale of his forthcoming book (about the fight for racial equality in Montgomery)."

Red China Premier Urges U.S. To Resume Diplomatic Talks

Red Buildup Of Sea Force Is Reported

Moving Faster And Heavier Power In Formosa's Direction

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist China is moving faster and heavier naval power toward the explosive Formosa Strait area, the chief military spokesman for Nationalist China said today.

The reported buildup of Red seapower is increasing the threat to Nationalist-held offshore islands, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu said.

More Communist warships could be used to intensify Red efforts to cut off the Nationalist supply route from Formosa to the islands and would be needed to cover any invasion attempt against the islands.

Indications mounted on Formosa, meanwhile that the Nationalists are preparing to bomb the Communist mainland if the Reds begin massive artillery or bombing attacks on Quemoy.

Liu said in an interview, "Intelligence reports trickling in indicate (the Communists) are moving bigger naval units in from the northern area. Up to now they've used only smaller type torpedo boats against us."

The admiral said reports indicated the Reds were sending south from the Shanghai, Tsingtao and Yangtze River areas gunboats resembling the 300-ton Kronstadt and the 900-ton Riga class warships of the Soviet navy. The Red torpedo boats now in the strait are less than 100 tons, Liu added.

With both sides in the vest pocket war jockeying for position, actual shooting had slacked off.

The Communists gave no indication of carrying out last week's threat of redoubled bombardments however. Up to midafternoon, the Nationalist Defense Ministry had no reports of shelling since Friday, which was the lightest day since the Red shelling of Quemoy started two weeks ago.

The indications of just-in-case bombing preparations came after a top U.S. official in Washington said the complex of new Communist airfields near Quemoy would be bombed almost immediately if used for assaults on the Nationalist stronghold island close to the mainland.

The U.S. authority hinted Nationalist planes would do the job. But if the Reds try to carry out reprisal raids on Formosa or the Pescadores, the United States would be treaty-bound to protect them. The official said only conventional weapons — not nuclear bombs—were involved in the possible bombings.

The U.S. threat was matched by an unofficial one from Moscow. In the strongest Soviet denunciation of the West since the 1956 Suez crisis, Soviet newspapers and broadcasts indicated the Soviet Union and Red China may be about to join in some decisive action, diplomatic or otherwise.

Chou Seeks Ambassador Level Parley

Reiterates Claim To Formosa, Pescadores Islands In Statement

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai today called on the United States to resume ambassador level talks "to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou's statement, made in a Chinese language broadcast, said "the Chinese government is now prepared to resume the ambassador level talks to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou reinterated Red China's claim that Formosa and Pescadores islands have always been Chinese territory and its was "chinese internal affair to exercise Chinese sovereignty and to liberate these areas."

The broadcast was the first comment made by Chou on the tense Formosa Strait situation.

The talks Chou wants resumed broke up last Dec. 12 in Geneva. They were opened in 1955 between U.S. Ambassador Alexis U. Johnson and Red China's Wang Ping-nan.

The implication of Chou's statement was that Red China now wants to bring the Formosa Strait pocket war into the diplomatic field.

On June 30, Red China made a similar demand for a resumption of the Geneva talks. A Peiping radio broadcast said then that if Washington took no action on resuming the talks by July 14, it would be considered responsible for breaking off the talks. Red China then threw in a threat against Formosa.

The talks were started in 1955 to negotiate the release of 40 Americans held in Red China and other issues. When most of the Americans were released, the talks switched to other issues between the two nations, including a U.S. demand for a pledge by Red China not to use force in the Formosa Strait area.

Four Americans are still in prison in Red China.

After the 73rd meeting last December, the talks adjourned with no future meetings set. Ambassador Johnson later was transferred to another post and Edwin W. Martin, first secretary of the U.S. Embassy in London, was appointed temporary U.S. representative.

In April, the Red Chinese charged that this was a U.S. trick to stall off further talks. It demanded that the United States appoint a diplomat of ambassadorial rank to resume the talks.

After the breakup in December, the United States was reported to have offered to resume the talks.

Beaver Local Fund Aid Due For Clearance

$326,464 Allotment Waits State Board Action At Columbus

The State Board of Education is scheduled Monday night to clear the way for Beaver Local School District to obtain state funds for additional classroom facilities, dependent upon a levy proposed for the November election ballot.

The State Board will meet Monday night at Columbus and is due to give conditional approval of an allotment of $326,464 to the Beaver Local district.

George VanHorne, executive head of the district, who will attend the meeting, said the action by the state board will enable the Beaver Local Board to set up a proposed two-way levy issue for November.

VanHorne explained the district will have to approve a half-mill levy for operating expenses to pay back to the state about $4,000 for 23 years. This would mean paying close to $100,000 in return for the $326,464 he said.

The district will also have to raise its bonded indebtedness to 9 per cent to qualify for this state grant. Since the district's indebtedness is now around 8½ per cent, a levy of between three - fourths and 1 mill would be required.

The proposed plan calls for one issue to be voted upon, combining both the half-mill levy to pay the state and the other levy, as yet undetermined, to raise the bonded indebtedness.

The Beaver Local Board, slated to meet Monday, will meet instead Sept. 16 when action on the plan is expected. The proposal will be presented to County Auditor I. J. Vorndran who will seek to have the issue submitted to the Board of Elections prior to the deadline 35 days before the election Nov. 4, VanHorne said.

The funds from the state allotments are slated for increasing classroom facilities at the high school, Calcutta, Rogers, Elkton and West Point School.

Another Door Swings Shut On Sheppard

Chief Justice Denies Cleveland Osteopath Habeas Corpus Writ

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another gate has swung shut on Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard in his fight for freedom from Ohio Penitentiary. He is serving a life term for the 1954 slaying of his wife Marilyn.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court denied the 36-year-old Cleveland osteopath a writ of habeas corpus Friday. If granted, the writ would have required Warden Ralph W. Alvis to show why Sheppard should remain in custody.

Sheppard's attorneys say they'll carry the fight to other courts, but what action they'll take hasn't been made clear. They previously indicated they would carry the fight into U.S. District Court if Judge Weygandt turned them down.

All remedies in state courts must be exhausted before the case can go to federal court, attorneys agreed. There are differences of opinion whether other appeals at the state level can still be made.

Some said Sheppard could ask the full seven-member Ohio Supreme Court for a hearing on his application for a writ. Others suggested he could file the application in lower courts, bypassed when his attorneys filed directly with the state supreme court.

Judge Weygandt held an informal hearing on the application Tuesday.

Returns To Washington

2 Chief Problems Facing President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House today for a round of talks on the Far East Crisis, school integration and other matters.

He flew back from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., arriving in his private plane, Columbine III at 10:36 a.m. (EDT).

The President planned to spend several hours in Washington and return to Newport this evening to resume his vacation.

Early this week it was announced that Eisenhower would return to Washington today to be host at a late afternoon White House reception for a group of American, British and Canadian college educators—members and guests of the American Assn. of Universities.

Later he booked meetings with Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and a goodbye visit with his economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hague, who has resigned to return to private business.

The President also arranged a White House luncheon conference, on the Far East situation and other matters, with Secretary of State Dulles.

They will size up again the Red China threats to invade the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands, and any developments since they conferred in Newport on that matter for an hour and 45 minutes Thursday.

The upshot of that meeting was a Dulles announcement that Eisenhower will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of Quemoy and other Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland—if the President decides they are essential to security of the main Chiang Kai-shek bastion, Formosa.

Late Friday the summer White House announced Eisenhower also would confer in Washington with Atty. Gen. Rogers. The conference topic as put by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"The various pending matters before the courts on the subject of (school) integration."

Hagerty declined to provide any detail. But the Eisenhower- Rogers talks almost certainly will deal in part with the impact of the impending U.S. Supreme Court decision—probably by midmonth — on whether integration should be resumed or delayed at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Another likely aspect of the talks was how the federal government will deal with any defiance this year of court-ordered integration.

During his brief Washington stay the President also plans to act on 18 bills, last of more than 300 that Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned two weeks ago.

4 Cases Wait Grand Jury For First Day

Panel To Convene Tuesday With Report Seen By Late Friday

The September Grand Jury, to be impaneled Tuesday morning at 9, will tackle four cases in the afternoon with nine witnesses called.

Thirteen cases are scheduled Wednesday with 23 witnesses.

A venire of 50 prospective jurors will report in Common Pleas Court to Judge Raymond S. Buzzard for seating of the jury, which will begin hearing testimony after lunch. The forenoon will be spent in inspection of the County Jail.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said the jury is expected to be in session until late Friday afternoon. Nearly 30 cases are on the docket.

Cases to be heard opening day are:

Duane E. Lockard, 21, of Akron, burglary of Pershing's Grill in Salem June 10.

Clifford Silverthorne, 38, of Lisbon R. D. 1, assault of 8-year-old East Liverpool girl June 9.

Glenmoor School Shut Monday For Repairs

Some 200 pupils at Glenmoor School will receive an unscheduled holiday Monday to permit workmen to repair a defective water pump.

Asst. Supt. Paul Blair said the pump became defective Friday and pupils were sent home at noon.

Plumbers inspected the pump yesterday but found it had to be pulled in order to make the repairs, Blair said. The plumbers said the work could not be completed before Monday.

Classes will resume Tuesday morning, he said.

Program Additions Made For GOP Rally

Carl Weinman of Steubenville, 18th District central committeeman, will introduce U. S. Sen. John Bricker. Atty. A $25 reward was offered by a LaCroft man today for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a "bird fancier," who stole 10 parakeets valued at $350 Friday night.

Charles Watkins of 5th Ave. told Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Taylor the parakeets were taken between 7:30 p. m. and midnight.

The birds included two pairs of yellows, two pairs of whites and a single pair valued at $125, Watkins said.

The thief apparently knew their value well, moving three other cages to reach the one pair which Taylor was told are rare in this area.

Safe Holding $10,000 Taken At Salem Store

SALEM — A safe containing some $10,000 was stolen from the Kroger Store, on E. State St. early today by burglars who backed up a stolen wrecker to pull it out of the building, according to Salem police and Columbiana County sheriff deputies.

The wrecker was apparently used to haul the safe to a waiting truck. The wrecker, owned by John Pennick, was found abandoned near Franklin Square. The safe has not been found.

Ray Weingart, assistant manager, discovered the safe was missing when he arrived at the store this morning at 7. He said the wrecker was apparently backed to a window, which was smashed, and the robbers hooked a chain around the safe to pull it out.

Residents in the neighborhood heard the crash but did not report the incident to police.

The money was in drawers within the safe. Salem police and sheriff's deputies are continuing an investigation.

The A. & P. Store was robbed of $760 by armed men last October.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss America will be crowned tonight and start her year-long reign as holder of the oldest national beauty title.

Two Southern girls, Miss Alabama and Miss North Carolina, won in the third round of preliminary judging Friday night. They are among the 52 contenders for the fame and fortune that goes to the final winner of the Miss America pageant.

Miss Alabama, a rabbit's foot tucked inside her costume, won the night's talent competition with a song from the musical "South Pacific."

Miss North Carolina, whose favorite sport is swimming, was declared tops in the swim suit division by the 11 judges who watched her walk down the runway at Convention Hall. She is Betty Lee Evans, 18, of Greenville, N.C., who stands 5-5½, weighs 112 pounds and measures 34-21-34½.

Lee Thornberry, a black-haired beauty from Birmingham, Ala., left her rabbit's foot in her hotel room and sent her chaperone back to get it at the last minute.

The lucky charm was stowed away inside the loose fitting sailor suit she wore during a rendition of the song and dance "Honeybun," performed by the character Nellie Forbush in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

When her name was called as a preliminary winner, Miss Thornberry said she "just lost all control of myself."

"It was the same feeling I had when my mother bought my first pair of dancing shoes," she said.

Chou Seeks Ambassador Level Parley

Reiterates Claim To Formosa, Pescadores Islands In Statement

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai today called on the United States to resume ambassador level talks "to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou's statement, made in a Chinese language broadcast, said "the Chinese government is now prepared to resume the ambassador level talks to make another effort for the defense of peace."

Chou reinterated Red China's claim that Formosa and Pescadores islands have always been Chinese territory and its was "chinese internal affair to exercise Chinese sovereignty and to liberate these areas."

The broadcast was the first comment made by Chou on the tense Formosa Strait situation.

The talks Chou wants resumed broke up last Dec. 12 in Geneva. They were opened in 1955 between U.S. Ambassador Alexis U. Johnson and Red China's Wang Ping-nan.

The implication of Chou's statement was that Red China now wants to bring the Formosa Strait pocket war into the diplomatic field.

On June 30, Red China made a similar demand for a resumption of the Geneva talks. A Peiping radio broadcast said then that if Washington took no action on resuming the talks by July 14, it would be considered responsible for breaking off the talks. Red China then threw in a threat against Formosa.

After the breakup in December, the United States was reported to have offered to resume the talks.

Beaver Local Fund Aid Due For Clearance

$326,464 Allotment Waits State Board Action At Columbus

The State Board of Education is scheduled Monday night to clear the way for Beaver Local School District to obtain state funds for additional classroom facilities, dependent upon a levy proposed for the November election ballot.

The State Board will meet Monday night at Columbus and is due to give conditional approval of an allotment of $326,464 to the Beaver Local district.

George VanHorne, executive head of the district, who will attend the meeting, said the action by the state board will enable the Beaver Local Board to set up a proposed two-way levy issue for November.

VanHorne explained the district will have to approve a half-mill levy for operating expenses to pay back to the state about $4,000 for 23 years. This would mean paying close to $100,000 in return for the $326,464 he said.

The district will also have to raise its bonded indebtedness to 9 per cent to qualify for this state grant. Since the district's indebtedness is now around 8½ per cent, a levy of between three - fourths and 1 mill would be required.

The proposed plan calls for one issue to be voted upon, combining both the half-mill levy to pay the state and the other levy, as yet undetermined, to raise the bonded indebtedness.

The Beaver Local Board, slated to meet Monday, will meet instead Sept. 16 when action on the plan is expected. The proposal will be presented to County Auditor I. J. Vorndran who will seek to have the issue submitted to the Board of Elections prior to the deadline 35 days before the election Nov. 4, VanHorne said.

The funds from the state allotments are slated for increasing classroom facilities at the high school, Calcutta, Rogers, Elkton and West Point School.

Safe Holding $10,000 Taken At Salem Store

SALEM — A safe containing some $10,000 was stolen from the Kroger Store, on E. State St. early today by burglars who backed up a stolen wrecker to pull it out of the building, according to Salem police and Columbiana County sheriff deputies.

The wrecker was apparently used to haul the safe to a waiting truck. The wrecker, owned by John Pennick, was found abandoned near Franklin Square. The safe has not been found.

Ray Weingart, assistant manager, discovered the safe was missing when he arrived at the store this morning at 7. He said the wrecker was apparently backed to a window, which was smashed, and the robbers hooked a chain around the safe to pull it out.

Residents in the neighborhood heard the crash but did not report the incident to police.

The money was in drawers within the safe. Salem police and sheriff's deputies are continuing an investigation.

The A. & P. Store was robbed of $760 by armed men last October.

Returns To Washington

2 Chief Problems Facing President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House today for a round of talks on the Far East Crisis, school integration and other matters.

He flew back from his vacation headquarters at Newport, R.I., arriving in his private plane, Columbine III at 10:36 a.m. (EDT).

The President planned to spend several hours in Washington and return to Newport this evening to resume his vacation.

Early this week it was announced that Eisenhower would return to Washington today to be host at a late afternoon White House reception for a group of American, British and Canadian college educators—members and guests of the American Assn. of Universities.

Later he booked meetings with Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and a goodbye visit with his economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hague, who has resigned to return to private business.

The President also arranged a White House luncheon conference, on the Far East situation and other matters, with Secretary of State Dulles.

They will size up again the Red China threats to invade the Chinese Nationalist offshore islands, and any developments since they conferred in Newport on that matter for an hour and 45 minutes Thursday.

The upshot of that meeting was a Dulles announcement that Eisenhower will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of Quemoy and other Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland—if the President decides they are essential to security of the main Chiang Kai-shek bastion, Formosa.

Late Friday the summer White House announced Eisenhower also would confer in Washington with Atty. Gen. Rogers. The conference topic as put by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"The various pending matters before the courts on the subject of (school) integration."

Hagerty declined to provide any detail. But the Eisenhower- Rogers talks almost certainly will deal in part with the impact of the impending U.S. Supreme Court decision—probably by midmonth — on whether integration should be resumed or delayed at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

Another likely aspect of the talks was how the federal government will deal with any defiance this year of court-ordered integration.

During his brief Washington stay the President also plans to act on 18 bills, last of more than 300 that Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned two weeks ago.

To Start Year-Long Reign

Crowning Of Miss America Waited Tonight At Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss America will be crowned tonight and start her year-long reign as holder of the oldest national beauty title.

Two Southern girls, Miss Alabama and Miss North Carolina, won in the third round of preliminary judging Friday night. They are among the 52 contenders for the fame and fortune that goes to the final winner of the Miss America pageant.

Miss Alabama, a rabbit's foot tucked inside her costume, won the night's talent competition with a song from the musical "South Pacific."

Miss North Carolina, whose favorite sport is swimming, was declared tops in the swim suit division by the 11 judges who watched her walk down the runway at Convention Hall. She is Betty Lee Evans, 18, of Greenville, N.C., who stands 5-5½, weighs 112 pounds and measures 34-21-34½.

Lee Thornberry, a black-haired beauty from Birmingham, Ala., left her rabbit's foot in her hotel room and sent her chaperone back to get it at the last minute.

The lucky charm was stowed away inside the loose fitting sailor suit she wore during a rendition of the song and dance "Honeybun," performed by the character Nellie Forbush in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

When her name was called as a preliminary winner, Miss Thornberry said she "just lost all control of myself."

"It was the same feeling I had when my mother bought my first pair of dancing shoes," she said.

Notice Warehousemen Local Union No. 86, all sick and unemployed members must report at our next meeting Monday, Sept. 15, or their names will be removed from the roll. By order of Pres.—Ad.

Now Faces Committee

Post 4 'Buy American' Bid Lost In Legion Convention

Parliamentary snags prevented a "Buy American" resolution proposed by East Liverpool Post 4 from reaching the floor of the American Legion convention in Chicago, but action has been promised by the national executive committee when it meets within the next two weeks in Indianapolis.

The status of the resolution was explained today by John Rippeth of Ephriam St., past commander and finance officer of Post 4 and the only local delegate to the national meeting that ended late Thursday. Rippeth arrived home Friday.

The "Buy American" resolution originated on the floor at a Post 4 meeting several months ago. It contained a second clause urging higher U. S. tariffs and a quota system to protect domestic industry and workers.

Moving up through the Legion's chain of command, the resolution was approved at a 10th District meeting and the Department of Ohio convention.

At Chicago, the Ohio group presented the resolution to the national convention, which sent it to the resolutions committee — first stop for any such proposal. The resolutions committee assigned the proposal to the foreign affairs and trade committee because of the clause on tariffs and quotas.

Both the committee rejected the resolution as "not germane to the American Legion foreign relations program and the policy of the U. S. government at the present time." It probably had in mind the recent renewal of the Reciprocal Trade agreements Act by Congress, over the bitter opposition of pottery industry labor and management.

The proponents of the resolution then deleted the clause on tariffs and quotas and sought to present the proposal again to the Americanism committee. However, that attempt was defeated because the Americanism committee already had finished its business and submitted a report on the floor.

The Department of Ohio then turned over the resolution to the national adjutant, who said it will be presented to the national executive committee, which is scheduled to meet sometime in the next two weeks at the Legion's national headquarters in Indianapolis.

Rippeth commented that he feels the resolution "has a good chance of passing" when it is given to the national executive committee.

The convention opened Friday, starting its business session Tuesday. Rippeth arrived in Chicago last Saturday and remained through adjournment, arriving home at 3 a. m. yesterday.

Now Faces Committee

Post 4 'Buy American' Bid Lost In Legion Convention

Parliamentary snags prevented a "Buy American" resolution proposed by East Liverpool Post 4 from reaching the floor of the American Legion convention in Chicago, but action has been promised by the national executive committee when it meets within the next two weeks in Indianapolis.

The status of the resolution was explained today by John Rippeth of Ephriam St., past commander and finance officer of Post 4 and the only local delegate to the national meeting that ended late Thursday. Rippeth arrived home Friday.

The "Buy American" resolution originated on the floor at a Post 4 meeting several months ago. It contained a second clause urging higher U. S. tariffs and a quota system to protect domestic industry and workers.

Moving up through the Legion's chain of command, the resolution was approved at a 10th District meeting and the Department of Ohio convention.

At Chicago, the Ohio group presented the resolution to the national convention, which sent it to the resolutions committee — first stop for any such proposal. The resolutions committee assigned the proposal to the foreign affairs and trade committee because of the clause on tariffs and quotas.

Both the committee rejected the resolution as "not germane to the American Legion foreign relations program and the policy of the U. S. government at the present time." It probably had in mind the recent renewal of the Reciprocal Trade agreements Act by Congress, over the bitter opposition of pottery industry labor and management.

The proponents of the resolution then deleted the clause on tariffs and quotas and sought to present the proposal again to the Americanism committee. However, that attempt was defeated because the Americanism committee already had finished its business and submitted a report on the floor.

The Department of Ohio then turned over the resolution to the national adjutant, who said it will be presented to the national executive committee, which is scheduled to meet sometime in the next two weeks at the Legion's national headquarters in Indianapolis.

Rippeth commented that he feels the resolution "has a good chance of passing" when it is given to the national executive committee.

The convention opened Friday, starting its business session Tuesday. Rippeth arrived in Chicago last Saturday and remained through adjournment, arriving home at 3 a. m. yesterday.

Frey was treated later at City Hospital for a laceration of the nose, bruised right shoulder and a sprained hip. His auto was damaged rather heavily.

Meanwhile, Arthur Broadbent, 23, of Woodbine Ave., will receive a hearing before Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville Tuesday on a speeding charge. He was cited by the patrol Friday night on Route 7.

2 Women And Man Fined At Wellsville

PTA At Westgate Plans For Term

The Westgate Elementary School Parent - Teacher Association decided at a meeting Friday night at Thompson Park to have homeroom mothers supervise entertainment of members' children during future meetings at the school.

This was felt necessary since some parents have no one to care for their children and therefore can not attend meetings.

A wiener sizzle and square dance featured the "get-together" outing in the lower pavilion at the park as the first meeting of the term.

Mrs. Dale Franklin gave a report on the year's activity and program. Thomas Dixon, principal of Westgate School, was introduced.

Vince Andrulis furnished the square dance music and was caller. Miss Lynette Franklin and Brent English gave a demonstration of the hoop.

The PTA executive committee meeting will be Sept. 17 and the regular meeting of the PTA will be Oct. 7 at Westgate School.

It is designed primarily for the new members of the department but older members also will be enrolled so as many men as possible can be trained.

Lieutenants Returned To Police Pension Unit

Ordinance That Has Been Needed

The ordinance which council will consider in the near future for stricter regulation of junk yards within the city limits has been needed for some time.

Encroachment upon the rights of private enterprise is to be abhorred except where absolutely necessary. This without question is a case where it is necessary. Junk yards, because of their very nature, command greater community concern than do many other types of business.

Under present legislation they have been left pretty much to their own supervision. And in many cases "home" control has proved inadequate.

Because of lack of zoning ordinances, junk yards frequently have been able to select sites best suited for their own needs but not favorable to the community's over-all appearance. The yards at the east and west end of the city are examples.

Both the city and the yards themselves stand to benefit under the proposed legislation.

The city, by stricter controls, could take some of the sting out of an eyesore and the business concerns themselves could increase the value of their property under improvements provided in the legislation. Also, by proper fencing the yards should be able to reduce the inevitable thefts that must cut into their profits yearly.

The suggested ordinance should hold solid food for thought for the subdivisions, too. Already junk yards are beginning to clutter the countryside. Trustees of the various townships would do well to begin action immediately to control the spread of what could become an increasing headache.

Traveling Expenses Guaranteed

According to latest reports from Vancouver, B.C., the extremist faction of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, whose members have been a thorn in the side of the province for half a century, will return to Russia.

Their traveling expenses, up to two million dollars, have been guaranteed by the provincial government, which thinks their absence would be cheap at almost any price.

They are the faction called Sons of Freedom — an irreconcilable minority in the Doukhobor colony that was established at the turn of the century. There could be no greater irony in the endless search of persecuted minorities for asylum than the faction's desire to go back to Russia.

Russian persecution drove out the Doukhobors, who are a religious sect with views that could not be reconciled with the doctrine of the Greek Orthodox Church in the 150-odd years after the sect began to assert itself in the middle of the 18th century. When their nonconformity finally became intolerable in the closing years of the 19th century, it was a relief for the Russians to guarantee their traveling expenses to Cyprus, first, and later to Canada.

The extremists who now are getting ready to go back to Russia will surely be disappointed if they think nonconformity is going to be winked at by the commissars any more than it was winked at by the czars. Russia's new state religion of man-worship has no more place for nonconformity than its former state religion had, but that is not the concern of British Columbia. Its welcome long since was worn out by the extremist Doukhobors' refusal to attend public schools and to show their displeasure with bombings. They may not love Russia, but British Columbia will love to have them there.

May All Your Wars Be Little Ones

The irony of the death of World War I soldiers after the Armistice had been declared has been matched many times before and after that first world-sized conflict.

Thousands and hundreds of thousands of human beings have died in violence that never was declared officially, or which led into and grew out of well known wars. Their names are carried on no official lists of war casualties. Their dependents have no claim on official gratitude. But they died in their line of duty as surely as men died at Waterloo, at Ypres, in the Battle of the Bulge, or during the retreat from the Yalu River.

They are dying now in a hot and angry war off the coast of China. Yet this particular war seems unlikely to bear a name or be included in the memorable actions of history, even if it proves to have been the prelude to something of historic consequence.

They will be as unknown and unsung as the Egyptian casualties in Port Said in 1956, the settlers and Indians who fell in the endless skirmishes that are lumped as the French and Indians Wars, or the victims of bad feeling who fell before and after the official dates for the Civil War. Many were buried without ceremony — anonymous sacrifices to the intolerance and savagery of mankind.

Only the casualties of memorable actions are remembered in history. There is no time or inclination to understand what happened to casualties of action no one ever heard of, though they were east just as surely in the heroic mold as Lord Nelson, himself.

There may be, one day, a monument to all of them, whoever they were—the Fuzzy-Wuzzies, the pioneers, the innocent bystanders, the members of the invading hordes, the resisting natives, the unarmed civilians. It will be in honor of the war casualities of all centuries and all nations, the ones who are "known but to God."

The most recent candidates will come from a cluster of tiny islands in dispute by the Chinese. No one can be sure why they were killed or what it signifies, but they are just as dead as if everybody knew.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Gov. Harriman, one of the wealthiest executives, dropped into the four-room house of an average American couple the other day for lunch. Both sides are regaining their composure as rapidly as can be expected.

This gives him the jump on Nelson Rockefeller, his gubernatorial opponent. He had better be photographed splitting a pot of beans in a log cabin. Events like this win elections everywhere.

Mrs. William Reilly, wife of a L.I. workingman, asked the Harrimans over for a snack in an "I wonder if they would come" mood.

They accepted graciously and swiftly. The event was well photographed and went off handsomely. The Harrimans brought along the dog and it acted very democratically, too.

"I thought Averell did very well in a modest dwelling," said a keen politician. "He didn't once ask to see the conservatory, swimming pool or arboreum."

"It was a chicken salad lunch," said another analyst, "and the chicken was of true Jeffersonian principles. It can't hurt him politically, and will help him if Rockefeller makes the mistake of having lunch with folks who dish up TURKEY."

ANOTHER ONLOOKER put it this way: "I understand Averell had hoped for hard-tack as an opening wedge in the campaign. Anyhow I studied him closely at lunch in the humble home of the Reilly's, and thought he demonstrated some of the top requirements of modern statesmanship in an election season.

"He never once chose the wrong fork and avoided such a ghastly error as bringing along his own sandwiches, just in case.

"It is hard to see how Rockefeller can fault him. My advice to Nelson is that he throw a clambake for small home dwellers in Rockefeller Plaza, waiting on table in his shirt sleeves and urging all hands to 'call me Rocky.'"

A READER ASKS: "I have a reference to a poem by John Masefield on motherhood. Did he write such a poem? I thought he wrote exclusively of the sea." Answer.—Masefield was the author of one of the most beautiful tributes to mothers ever written:

In the dark womb where I began
My mother's life made me a man.
Through all the months of human birth
Her beauty fed my common earth.
I cannot see, nor breathe, nor stir,
But through the death of some of her.

WHAT AIRWAVE FANS dream of is a filter that filters the filter commercials.

"Perhaps quiz shows should be labeled exhibitions like wrestling," says District Attorney Hogan. (Do you want quiz show contestants jumping on one another and slugging the emcee?)

Whether "Beth," heroine of Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" will die as in the novel or live as in TV the author's concept is agitating airwave show biz. Richard Adler, author, wants to switch permitting Beth to stick around. "She can't die on a one-hour show, with eight minutes out for commercials," he argues. A pen company is sponsor so why not a compromise by which the curtain will fall on the heroine trying out a fountain pen under water, with the audience left guessing whether she will come up or not?

AFL-CIO Sets Up Consumer Aid Unit

By Victor Riesel

To give the average working Joe a chance to live by more than bread alone, the nation's top labor chiefs are quietly organizing a new type of anti-racket bureau—to make certain that the hundreds of millions of dollars in wage boosts won at bargaining tables are not lost to chiselers at phoney bargain counters and sales.

Victor Riesel

A thousand petty rackets are slashing big holes in the budgets of working families across the land. An estimated billion dollars a year is being highjacked subtly by crude crooked set-ups — a billion dollars which should be spent by hard working folk in legitimate enterprises run by honest merchants.

There'll be little drama at first in the new labor bureau now being whipped into shape by the AFL-CIO Community Service Activities' chief, Leo Perlis, headquartered in New York.

This new anti-racket bureau will be known as the Consumer Counselling Service. It was ordered into business at a recent session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. Leo Perlis will have it operating right after the first of the year.

THUS WILL BEGIN a widespread war which will defend millions of working people and their families from the swindlers and gougers who make their millions in tens and twenties by charging inflated rates for washing machines, television sets or installation services.

This new group will fight against ghoulish interest rates on installment purchases and will expose other frauds in repairs, health insurance policies, high pressure door - to - door salesmen and fake correspondence courses as well as hidden charges on household appliances. It will also swing out at fake collection agencies.

In passing, permit me to make this an invitation to any working family who has such a grievance to pass word on to Mr. Perlis even now before the Consumer Counselling Service swings into action.

For some years now labor leaders have been angered by the fact that after news spreads of a wage increase in some industrial area, the vultures swoop down.

They offer fake brand television sets, for example, at a cheap price and then say they'll throw in an expensive lamp — worth all of 89 cents. Or they hook up a fine brand TV set with faulty wiring so reception on the store floor will be bad.

THEN THEY PUSH the sale of a set made up in some local cellar or one with stolen parts. If they do sell a good brand set to a persistent customer, the quack store salesman will charge for the manufacturer's guarantee. Or he'll charge 20 per cent interest on installments. Or he'll charge for service on a washing machine — service which is guaranteed by the producer for nothing.

There are a thousand such rackets — and Leo Perlis' committee plans to alert union members everywhere in a series of classes run in their union headquarters.

Mr. Perlis will use university experts as teachers — not only on mechanical equipment but on nutrition and foods, too. For there are rackets in these fields as well.

There will also be roving clinics in a continuing program until each union sets up its own consumer counseling department. They'll teach families of unionists how to buy wisely and where to go if they believe themselves mulcted of their hard earned money.

WHEREVER PERLIS' people run into rackets which can be prosecuted, they'll work with the local and federal prosecutive agencies.

Mr. Perlis is contacting the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration and the hundreds of Better Business Bureaus everywhere in setting up this unique project.

It's important to point out that everybody will be helped in a positive manner — the employers, the unionists and the local merchants, too. From sophistication on the petty business racketeering, the Consumer Counselling Service will swing into education on such things as wise purchasing of food.

This will be done by cooperating with the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, with which labor seldom in the past has had contact.

From this will come advice to working families on when the cheapest buys are available, in season, on fruits, vegetables, eggs and meat.

Thus, by making the dollar stretch further, some of the tensions will be lifted from the minds —and bodies — of millions of working men and their wives.

The big floodlights will be turned on the cheap chiselers to flush them out of the money-padded holes in which they've been operating almost undetected until now.

Letters To The Editor

As chairman of the "Buy American —Buy Union Label" committee, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of the tri-state area who gave their time and effort to help us make our parade a success.

We also wish to thank the school board for the use of Memorial Auditorium and the 12 manufacturers for their excellent displays.

It is really a shame, however, that so much time and effort was extended when the purpose of our parade was so completely ignored. Of the hundreds of people who watched the parade, I counted but 60 who were interested enough in our campaign to join the rally at the auditorium.

We cannot carry on this campaign alone. We need your help. But if the attendance at the MA was any indication, we don't have it. It takes more than 60 people to keep this campaign alive. If you didn't join our rally, at least join us now. We ask that you please do not buy foreign products.

We don't need to know who you are and neither does anyone else if you are shy. We only ask that whenever you pick up a product made in a foreign country that you place it back on the stand.

I really have seen people do just that. And though I didn't know them personally, it made my heart glad to see the gesture. So if the people of the tri - state area will do that one simple thing, we will know you are with us.

Our speaker, Mr. Paul Ornburn of Washington, D. C., stated at the rally that the pottery industry and the garment industry were affected badly by foreign imports.

We know we are from the amount of clothing from overseas that is displayed in the local stores we can guess on the condition of the garment workers. If we refuse to buy the foreign-made clothing (no matter how cheap) we are helping our own people and I'm sure that they will do the same for us if given the chance.

We regret the "slap in the face" our people gave Mr. Ornburn by not showing up to hear him speak, but perhaps you can partially make up for it by backing our "Buy American - Buy Union Label Campaign."

EARL CRYTZER

I am only 16 years old, but old enough to complain and gripe. My friends and I like to play sports, but we haven't any place to play.

Whenever we play ball — any kind, football, baseball, etc. — one of the neighbors calls the police. The more the police come, the more marks put against our name. We're not destroying property or harming anyone. It just seems we're not wanted around the neighborhood.

I live three blocks away from friends and some people say that I ought to play in my own neighborhood. The trouble with that is there isn't any place to play here either. Our playground was sold and the nearest other playground is too far and there's usually someone playing there. We could go to Patterson Field, but you're not allowed to play in the football field.

It all adds up to one thing: Build more and bigger playgrounds. It helps keep boys and girls off street corners.

Constitutional Crisis

By David Lawrence

Court Stand Seen Threat To State Laws

A constitutional crisis of major proportions is shaping up for America. It involves fa. more than the issue of attendance in mixed schools. It involves the broader question of whether the Supreme Court of the United States may suddenly rule that "equal protection of the laws" under the 14th Amendment requires uniformity throughout the nation on all laws affecting citizens generally.

David Lawrence

This could mean that the divorce laws of all the states must be the same, income tax laws must be the same, laws regulating labor unions and corporations, respectively, must be the same and laws must be uniform throughout the country with regard to all kinds of licenses and privileges which citizens of different states may desire to obtain or enjoy.

Few people realize the potential scope of the 14th Amendment and its far-reaching impact if the present Supreme Court continues its current program of knocking down state laws that it considers socially or psychologically harmful or as involving discrimination between citizens in any field of endeavor.

Many millions of Americans undoubtedly feel that they are being discriminated against because they pay higher taxes to their own state than do citizens elsewhere.

MANY CITIZENS object to the fact that, although they do business across state lines, they must pay local taxes in varying amounts to different states and cities where they sell their wares. If the 14th Amendment means that no state shall deny "equal protection of the laws" to any citizen, the principle could apply as between citizens who live in different states instead of merely as between citizens of a single state.

The theory could be carried to the point where economic inequality can be condemned by the Supreme Court as readily as racial or social inequalities, under the doctrine that it is an obligation of government to guarantee equality as between citizens.

There would be a condition of near chaos in America if the Supreme Court invalidated, for instance, state laws on divorce. Husbands could stop paying alimony. Persons who had remarried in one state believing that they were legally divorced in another state could be made subject to various kinds of legal suits.

Yet, while such action may not be imminent, the stark fact is that the Supreme Court has set itself up as having the right to disregard at any moment all legal precedents of the past and to rule on what it believes is socially or psychologically desirable.

Today the slogan of the court, in effect, is that the end justifies the means. This has been taken up far and wide across the nation by many people in an emotional crusade in support of the court's decisions.

THE PUBLIC is being told repeatedly that everything the Supreme Court says is the "Law of the land." Critics say the opposite —that a Supreme Court decision is the "Law of the case" and can be reversed at any time and that it merely covers the parties to the particular case and is not necessarily binding on anybody else.

This fact has not sunk in as yet generally, though most lawyers know it has always been true.

The latest challenge to the idea that the school desegregation decisions are the "law of the land" in the sense that they actually can compel integration in every state has come from Gov. Almond of Virginia. Himself a former state attorney general and an able lawyer, Mr. Almond made a sensational statement when he said:

"No decision of the Supreme Court of the United States or any subordinate federal court requires or can require this state or any of its political subdivisions to operate any public school, whether integrated or not. . . .

"No federal court is vested with authority under the decision of the Supreme Court to direct, compel or coerce any defendant district (school) superintendent or school board to assign or enroll any pupil in any school, or to do any affirmative administrative act pertaining thereto."

THIS IS REALLY the key to the program through which the Southern States feel confident they can legally avoid forcible integration in the public schools.

What Gov. Almond is saying is that a federal court may order a school to cease segregation—which is a negative ruling, derived supposedly from the 14th Amendment —but this is a far cry from saying a school board must admit anybody who asks to be enrolled just because a federal court has ordered it.

The states have always taken the position that they may be restrained from doing something but they cannot be compelled "affirmatively" to do something. Once a student requests admission and it is denied, this is a separate case to be tried on its merits in the courts. It could mean prolonged litigation. But to say ahead of time that the school board in any community must enroll any applicants is to compel a state to take an affirmative action.

It would be equally illogical and lawless for a federal court to tell a state legislature that, having denied funds for a certain school, it must go ahead and appropriate money to run that school lest it come under disfavor of the court.

If states have lost their power to refrain from taking affirmative action on their own and if their legislatures or subdivisions of government are subject to compulsion to pass laws or issue diplomas under federal court orders, then the constitutional crisis ahead could result in the complete abolition of state governments and the emergence of the federal judiciary as the supreme legislative as well as judicial power in the country.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Soon, hundreds of thousands of the same people who stayed away from other events because of distance, climate and discomforts will be crossing state lines in driving snowstorms to sit on hard boards at football games.

The thought keeps flashing through my mind that Chiang Kai-shek or any other Chinese political leader might die and be replaced by someone else using the same name and no one in the occident would be the wiser.

There finally comes a day in September or October when no one is scheduled to take a vacation and the old gang can get together around the water cooler again, but with one gnawing question: Who did the work last summer when the indispensable people were away?

I will listen to the advice of anyone who is qualified by experience to talk about practical matters, though observation has taught me that experience alone does not bring competence. Some people do not have enough judgment to evaluate what they have learned from experience.

Nothing is more exciting to a pupil than the resumption of school days, until school days, themselves, become as boring and deadly dull as vacation days would be if they lasted long enough. The enemy of education is boredom.

The slickest, quickest way to make a million right now would be to foresee what will plug up television's aching voids when the horse operas have worn out their welcome, which will be long before next spring.

If I were a photographer, I'd work hard on a picture of a park bench littered with fallen leaves, suggesting the emptiness and loneliness of autumn.

Ordinance That Has Been Needed

The ordinance which council will consider in the near future for stricter regulation of junk yards within the city limits has been needed for some time.

Encroachment upon the rights of private enterprise is to be abhorred except where absolutely necessary. This without question is a case where it is necessary. Junk yards, because of their very nature, command greater community concern than do many other types of business.

Under present legislation they have been left pretty much to their own supervision. And in many cases "home" control has proved inadequate.

Because of lack of zoning ordinances, junk yards frequently have been able to select sites best suited for their own needs but not favorable to the community's over-all appearance. The yards at the east and west end of the city are examples.

Both the city and the yards themselves stand to benefit under the proposed legislation.

The city, by stricter controls, could take some of the sting out of an eyesore and the business concerns themselves could increase the value of their property under improvements provided in the legislation. Also, by proper fencing the yards should be able to reduce the inevitable thefts that must cut into their profits yearly.

The suggested ordinance should hold solid food for thought for the subdivisions, too. Already junk yards are beginning to clutter the countryside. Trustees of the various townships would do well to begin action immediately to control the spread of what could become an increasing headache.

Traveling Expenses Guaranteed

According to latest reports from Vancouver, B.C., the extremist faction of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, whose members have been a thorn in the side of the province for half a century, will return to Russia.

Their traveling expenses, up to two million dollars, have been guaranteed by the provincial government, which thinks their absence would be cheap at almost any price.

They are the faction called Sons of Freedom — an irreconcilable minority in the Doukhobor colony that was established at the turn of the century. There could be no greater irony in the endless search of persecuted minorities for asylum than the faction's desire to go back to Russia.

Russian persecution drove out the Doukhobors, who are a religious sect with views that could not be reconciled with the doctrine of the Greek Orthodox Church in the 150-odd years after the sect began to assert itself in the middle of the 18th century. When their nonconformity finally became intolerable in the closing years of the 19th century, it was a relief for the Russians to guarantee their traveling expenses to Cyprus, first, and later to Canada.

The extremists who now are getting ready to go back to Russia will surely be disappointed if they think nonconformity is going to be winked at by the commissars any more than it was winked at by the czars. Russia's new state religion of man-worship has no more place for nonconformity than its former state religion had, but that is not the concern of British Columbia. Its welcome long since was worn out by the extremist Doukhobors' refusal to attend public schools and to show their displeasure with bombings. They may not love Russia, but British Columbia will love to have them there.

May All Your Wars Be Little Ones

The irony of the death of World War I soldiers after the Armistice had been declared has been matched many times before and after that first world-sized conflict.

Thousands and hundreds of thousands of human beings have died in violence that never was declared officially, or which led into and grew out of well known wars. Their names are carried on no official lists of war casualties. Their dependents have no claim on official gratitude. But they died in their line of duty as surely as men died at Waterloo, at Ypres, in the Battle of the Bulge, or during the retreat from the Yalu River.

They are dying now in a hot and angry war off the coast of China. Yet this particular war seems unlikely to bear a name or be included in the memorable actions of history, even if it proves to have been the prelude to something of historic consequence.

They will be as unknown and unsung as the Egyptian casualties in Port Said in 1956, the settlers and Indians who fell in the endless skirmishes that are lumped as the French and Indians Wars, or the victims of bad feeling who fell before and after the official dates for the Civil War. Many were buried without ceremony — anonymous sacrifices to the intolerance and savagery of mankind.

Only the casualties of memorable actions are remembered in history. There is no time or inclination to understand what happened to casualties of action no one ever heard of, though they were east just as surely in the heroic mold as Lord Nelson, himself.

There may be, one day, a monument to all of them, whoever they were—the Fuzzy-Wuzzies, the pioneers, the innocent bystanders, the members of the invading hordes, the resisting natives, the unarmed civilians. It will be in honor of the war casualities of all centuries and all nations, the ones who are "known but to God."

The most recent candidates will come from a cluster of tiny islands in dispute by the Chinese. No one can be sure why they were killed or what it signifies, but they are just as dead as if everybody knew.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Gov. Harriman, one of the wealthiest executives, dropped into the four-room house of an average American couple the other day for lunch. Both sides are regaining their composure as rapidly as can be expected.

This gives him the jump on Nelson Rockefeller, his gubernatorial opponent. He had better be photographed splitting a pot of beans in a log cabin. Events like this win elections everywhere.

Mrs. William Reilly, wife of a L.I. workingman, asked the Harrimans over for a snack in an "I wonder if they would come" mood.

They accepted graciously and swiftly. The event was well photographed and went off handsomely. The Harrimans brought along the dog and it acted very democratically, too.

"I thought Averell did very well in a modest dwelling," said a keen politician. "He didn't once ask to see the conservatory, swimming pool or arboreum."

"It was a chicken salad lunch," said another analyst, "and the chicken was of true Jeffersonian principles. It can't hurt him politically, and will help him if Rockefeller makes the mistake of having lunch with folks who dish up TURKEY."

ANOTHER ONLOOKER put it this way: "I understand Averell had hoped for hard-tack as an opening wedge in the campaign. Anyhow I studied him closely at lunch in the humble home of the Reilly's, and thought he demonstrated some of the top requirements of modern statesmanship in an election season.

"He never once chose the wrong fork and avoided such a ghastly error as bringing along his own sandwiches, just in case.

"It is hard to see how Rockefeller can fault him. My advice to Nelson is that he throw a clambake for small home dwellers in Rockefeller Plaza, waiting on table in his shirt sleeves and urging all hands to 'call me Rocky.'"

A READER ASKS: "I have a reference to a poem by John Masefield on motherhood. Did he write such a poem? I thought he wrote exclusively of the sea." Answer.—Masefield was the author of one of the most beautiful tributes to mothers ever written:

In the dark womb where I began
My mother's life made me a man.
Through all the months of human birth
Her beauty fed my common earth.
I cannot see, nor breathe, nor stir,
But through the death of some of her.

WHAT AIRWAVE FANS dream of is a filter that filters the filter commercials.

"Perhaps quiz shows should be labeled exhibitions like wrestling," says District Attorney Hogan. (Do you want quiz show contestants jumping on one another and slugging the emcee?)

Whether "Beth," heroine of Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" will die as in the novel or live as in TV the author's concept is agitating airwave show biz. Richard Adler, author, wants to switch permitting Beth to stick around. "She can't die on a one-hour show, with eight minutes out for commercials," he argues. A pen company is sponsor so why not a compromise by which the curtain will fall on the heroine trying out a fountain pen under water, with the audience left guessing whether she will come up or not?

We know we are from the amount of clothing from overseas that is displayed in the local stores we can guess on the condition of the garment workers. If we refuse to buy the foreign-made clothing (no matter how cheap) we are helping our own people and I'm sure that they will do the same for us if given the chance.

We regret the "slap in the face" our people gave Mr. Ornburn by not showing up to hear him speak, but perhaps you can partially make up for it by backing our "Buy American - Buy Union Label Campaign."

EARL CRYTZER

I am only 16 years old, but old enough to complain and gripe. My friends and I like to play sports, but we haven't any place to play.

Whenever we play ball — any kind, football, baseball, etc. — one of the neighbors calls the police. The more the police come, the more marks put against our name. We're not destroying property or harming anyone. It just seems we're not wanted around the neighborhood.

I live three blocks away from friends and some people say that I ought to play in my own neighborhood. The trouble with that is there isn't any place to play here either. Our playground was sold and the nearest other playground is too far and there's usually someone playing there. We could go to Patterson Field, but you're not allowed to play in the football field.

It all adds up to one thing: Build more and bigger playgrounds. It helps keep boys and girls off street corners.

Constitutional Crisis

By David Lawrence

Court Stand Seen Threat To State Laws

A constitutional crisis of major proportions is shaping up for America. It involves far more than the issue of attendance in mixed schools. It involves the broader question of whether the Supreme Court of the United States may suddenly rule that "equal protection of the laws" under the 14th Amendment requires uniformity throughout the nation on all laws affecting citizens generally.

David Lawrence

This could mean that the divorce laws of all the states must be the same, income tax laws must be the same, laws regulating labor unions and corporations, respectively, must be the same and laws must be uniform throughout the country with regard to all kinds of licenses and privileges which citizens of different states may desire to obtain or enjoy.

Few people realize the potential scope of the 14th Amendment and its far-reaching impact if the present Supreme Court continues its current program of knocking down state laws that it considers socially or psychologically harmful or as involving discrimination between citizens in any field of endeavor.

Many millions of Americans undoubtedly feel that they are being discriminated against because they pay higher taxes to their own state than do citizens elsewhere.

MANY CITIZENS object to the fact that, although they do business across state lines, they must pay local taxes in varying amounts to different states and cities where they sell their wares. If the 14th Amendment means that no state shall deny "equal protection of the laws" to any citizen, the principle could apply as between citizens who live in different states instead of merely as between citizens of a single state.

The theory could be carried to the point where economic inequality can be condemned by the Supreme Court as readily as racial or social inequalities, under the doctrine that it is an obligation of government to guarantee equality as between citizens.

There would be a condition of near chaos in America if the Supreme Court invalidated, for instance, state laws on divorce. Husbands could stop paying alimony. Persons who had remarried in one state believing that they were legally divorced in another state could be made subject to various kinds of legal suits.

Yet, while such action may not be imminent, the stark fact is that the Supreme Court has set itself up as having the right to disregard at any moment all legal precedents of the past and to rule on what it believes is socially or psychologically desirable.

Today the slogan of the court, in effect, is that the end justifies the means. This has been taken up far and wide across the nation by many people in an emotional crusade in support of the court's decisions.

THE PUBLIC is being told repeatedly that everything the Supreme Court says is the "Law of the land." Critics say the opposite —that a Supreme Court decision is the "Law of the case" and can be reversed at any time and that it merely covers the parties to the particular case and is not necessarily binding on anybody else.

This fact has not sunk in as yet generally, though most lawyers know it has always been true.

The latest challenge to the idea that the school desegregation decisions are the "law of the land" in the sense that they actually can compel integration in every state has come from Gov. Almond of Virginia. Himself a former state attorney general and an able lawyer, Mr. Almond made a sensational statement when he said:

"No decision of the Supreme Court of the United States or any subordinate federal court requires or can require this state or any of its political subdivisions to operate any public school, whether integrated or not. . . .

"No federal court is vested with authority under the decision of the Supreme Court to direct, compel or coerce any defendant district (school) superintendent or school board to assign or enroll any pupil in any school, or to do any affirmative administrative act pertaining thereto."

THIS IS REALLY the key to the program through which the Southern States feel confident they can legally avoid forcible integration in the public schools.

What Gov. Almond is saying is that a federal court may order a school to cease segregation—which is a negative ruling, derived supposedly from the 14th Amendment —but this is a far cry from saying a school board must admit anybody who asks to be enrolled just because a federal court has ordered it.

The states have always taken the position that they may be restrained from doing something but they cannot be compelled "affirmatively" to do something. Once a student requests admission and it is denied, this is a separate case to be tried on its merits in the courts. It could mean prolonged litigation. But to say ahead of time that the school board in any community must enroll any applicants is to compel a state to take an affirmative action.

It would be equally illogical and lawless for a federal court to tell a state legislature that, having denied funds for a certain school, it must go ahead and appropriate money to run that school lest it come under disfavor of the court.

If states have lost their power to refrain from taking affirmative action on their own and if their legislatures or subdivisions of government are subject to compulsion to pass laws or issue diplomas under federal court orders, then the constitutional crisis ahead could result in the complete abolition of state governments and the emergence of the federal judiciary as the supreme legislative as well as judicial power in the country.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Soon, hundreds of thousands of the same people who stayed away from other events because of distance, climate and discomforts will be crossing state lines in driving snowstorms to sit on hard boards at football games.

The thought keeps flashing through my mind that Chiang Kai-shek or any other Chinese political leader might die and be replaced by someone else using the same name and no one in the occident would be the wiser.

There finally comes a day in September or October when no one is scheduled to take a vacation and the old gang can get together around the water cooler again, but with one gnawing question: Who did the work last summer when the indispensable people were away?

I will listen to the advice of anyone who is qualified by experience to talk about practical matters, though observation has taught me that experience alone does not bring competence. Some people do not have enough judgment to evaluate what they have learned from experience.

Nothing is more exciting to a pupil than the resumption of school days, until school days, themselves, become as boring and deadly dull as vacation days would be if they lasted long enough. The enemy of education is boredom.

The slickest, quickest way to make a million right now would be to foresee what will plug up television's aching voids when the horse operas have worn out their welcome, which will be long before next spring.

If I were a photographer, I'd work hard on a picture of a park bench littered with fallen leaves, suggesting the emptiness and loneliness of autumn.

To Be Presented At Convention

DiSalle Prods Democrats Into Revision Of Platform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Under the prodding of Michael V. DiSalle, the Democratic state platform which will be presented to to the job of revising the platform which will be presented to the state convention late today.

Questioned by newsmen, gubernatorial candidate DiSalle conceded that he objects to some wording of planks tentatively placed in the platform Friday. He declined to specify which planks he dislikes.

Speculation, however, centered on a controversial plank already hammered into the platform dealing with the party's opposition to racketeering. DiSalle is believed to prefer that the plank spell out his opposition to labor union racketeering.

The wording of that plank came in for heated discussion Friday. State Sens. Charles J. Carney of Youngstown and Frank W. King of Toledo objected strenuously to a plank which would single out labor racketeering as its only target.

As a tentative compromise, the platform committee, headed by Judge Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, settled on a general statement opposing racketeering and proposing punative actions against any form of racketeering.

Between committee sessions, delegates gathered this morning to hear Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, candidate for U.S. senator, attack the Republican incumbent, Sen. John W. Bricker.

"While the present Republican senator (Bricker) from Ohio sat as chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee he was, at the same time, being paid a fee by his law firm which handles the Pennsylvania Railroad as a client," Young said. "And his only answer upon being questioned as to the propriety of receiving a $11,500 split from the firm's annual profits was: 'What's wrong with me being a chairman of the committee and receiving money from the law firm? Everyone knows I'm honest.'"

Keynoting the Democratic convention, Sen. Albert Gore (Dd Tenn.) said Friday programs to combat recession, spur military development, aid civil rights, plus a constructive attitude in the field of foreign policy and investigations have made the recently adjourned Democratic Congress the best in 20 years.

As work on the state platform progressed, it was apparent planks will include:

Opposition to the proposal to ban the union shop in Ohio.

A repeat of the 1956 Democrat demand for a fair employment practices law which doesn't mince words.

Condemnation of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill's vetoing an act last year to make a general increase in fees charged by county officials for special services.

500 Attend Graduation Of Nurses Class

A capacity crowd of 500 with many standing attended the 47th commencement exercises of the City Hospital School of Nursing Friday night in the First United Presbyterian Church at which two of the girls won double recognition. Twelve were graduated.

Miss Lois Marie Cosgrove of Chester received the award for the highest scholastic standing and Miss Nancy Dover of East Liverpool for the second highest. Both awards were given by the Lions Club with H. D. Rist making the presentations.

Miss Costrove also was presented an anonymous award for the most interest in nursing education and Miss Dover the anonymous award for the best all-around nurse.

THE AWARD of the private duty section of the East Liverpool Nurses Alumnae Association, for the best bedside nurse, went to Miss Martha Grace Bennett of Chester, and the Albert I. McLain award for the best dietary nurse to Miss Norma Jean Shaw of East Liverpool.

Other anonymous awards were given Miss Dorothy Ann Bemis of Wellsville, best operating room nurse; Miss Lewanda Marie Sheline of East Liverpool, most interested in professional progress, and Miss Wilma Lovejoy of Midland, third highest in scholastic standing.

Miss Bemis' mother, Mrs. Helen Bemis, is a supervisor at the hospital.

Mrs. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the nursing school committee, announced the award and Mrs. Sarah E. Davis, director of nurses, gave the anonymous awards. Both participated in the presentation of diplomas.

—:—

AFTER RECEIVING their diplomas the graduates recited the Nightingale Pledge and sang "I'll Walk With God" (Brodsky-Webster).

The class made its first appearance in white uniforms, signifying the end of their student status.

Instructors, Mrs. Ila Shingler, Mrs. Mary Kessell, and Mrs. Louise Sloane, led the seniors, juniors and pre - clinic students in the candlelight processional and Mrs. Davis led the graduates, followed by nurses of the hospital staff.

Dr. W. J. Smart, interim pastor of the Irondale and Hammondsville Methodist Churches, spoke on "Nursing As A Career".

HE REMINDED the girls their profession is different from others in that its sole purpose is the relief of suffering.

He keynoted his talk with the phrase from the Nightingale Pledge, "I will practice my profession faithfully," and pointed out that while their training has given them the basic scientific requirements and knowledge they must add compassion to be successful nurses. "Compassion is the world's most urgent need," he declared.

He cited the compassion of Dr. Ida Scudder, who started a hospital in Vallore, India, in 1900 with only one small room and one bed. Now the hospital has grown to 700 beds and there are 287 students enrolled in her medical college. "Compassion is not only curative but creative," he said.

—:—

IN CLOSING, he gave the class three points to enrich their careers.

"First, be sympathetic in the sense of entering into the lives of patients; second, keep a sense of humor — often a joke will do more good than a bottle of medicine, but to be on the safe side administer both, and third, practice mental prayer, "which he defined as "plugging into power."

Dr. Smart was introduced by Everson Hall, a member of the Board of Directors of the City Hospital Association.

Baskets of red and white flowers highlighted the church setting for the ceremonies.

—:—

DR. A. K. Davison, pastor, offered the invocation and benediction and Mrs. Donald M. Ogilvie was organist. Vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Robert E. Metcalfe.

Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent, was present, as well as district officers of the Ohio Nurses Association.

Refreshments were served in the social rooms by the Women's Auxiliary of the City Hospital Association with Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr., president, in charge. Arrangements of red and white flowers accented table decorations.

3 Boy 'Rustlers' Freed With Charges Dropped

LISBON — A hearing scheduled Thursday in Juvenile Court for a Salineville boy and two from nearby Hayti — apprehended recently in connection with "borrowing" and riding horses from area farms — was canceled following lack of prosecution by the complainants.

The Salineville boy, 15, and the other two, 14, were tracked down by Washington Township Constable Alvin K. Johnston after residents reported masked riders galloping along district roads in the early morning hours.

The youths returned most of the borrowed animals but kept horses of John Dallis of near Hammondsville in a corral on one occasion. The trio was originally turned over to Jefferson County authorities who ordered them to appear before Judge Louis Tobin before the case was settled.

Annexation Move In Fairfield Continues

LISBON — A petition for annexation of 1½ square miles of Fairfield Township to the village of Columbiana was ruled out Friday because of an error in the description, according to Galen Greenisen, president of the Board of County Commissioners, which held a public hearing on the proposal at the Courthouse.

The 116-name petition was filed in June with the commissioners and covered six quarter - sections immediately south of the village.

Apponents yesterday argued that since the word "east" at one point in the description should have read "west," the description did not constitute an enclosure.

The petitioners asked to have the petitioned amended to read correctly and cited cases where this has been done by county commissioners in other counties.

On the advice of County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, they concurred and decided that a new description will have to be drawn and another petition circulated.

Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine represented the petitioners and Atty. William Moore of Lisbon the opponents at the hearing, attended by 25 persons.

Picketing Orderly At Ford's Struck Plant At Sandusky

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Picketing was orderly at the struck Ford Motor Co. parts and equipment plant today. A court order limiting picketing was issued Friday following an outbreak of violence.

Some 200 strikers jammed around the plant's four entrances Friday, a company spokesman said. An automobile was upset and several vehicles were stoned. No one was injured.

Judge James McCrystal of Erie County Common Pleas Court issued a temporary restraining order limiting pickets to four at each gate. The order also enjoins strikers from interfering with traffic into or out of the plant.

A company spokesman said there were less than four pickets at some of the gates this morning. The plant was not operating.

A hearing on a company-requested injunction to halt mass picketing was scheduled for today. (11 a. m., EST).

Some 1,400 members of United Auto Workers Local 1216 walked out Wednesday night. Paul Thornbury, local president, said the strike resulted from unsettled grievances which had been the topic of two weeks' negotiations.

Thornbury said at issue were a foreman's "abuse" of workers and cancellation of a procedure by which employes obtained tools and work clothing on company time.

Flexible Waist Needed For Slimness

If you lolled lazily through the summer, tossing calorie caution to the breezes, extra pounds sneaked on. It's almost unbelievable that just three added pounds can spread the middle measurement! But there they are — an extra inch on the waist and another across the abdominal bulge.

Ida Jean Kain

At the moment, the waist is not fashion's darling. But who wants to feel bulky in the middle! Such padding is aging and detracts from our natural flexibility. To keep silken slim and lissome, one must keep flexible in the middle.

Actually, it isn't the waist that widens first, although it appears to, particularly in a dress that is fitted at the waist. The spread originates in the girdle muscles, specifically in the oblique muscles.

—:—

TO GET THE picture of what goes on, place hands at either side of waist, thumbs and forefingers encircling the waist area. Spread the fingers of both hands fan shaped to span the two sides of the abdomen.

Your fingers should cover the bias muscles which span the side-front of the abdomen. These muscles insert sawtooth fashion to the lower ribs, thus controlling the waist and midriff at the sides.

It is plain to see that when these important muscles become soft and lax, the middle measurement is no longer snug and the waist wanders.

Exercise can put the gimp back in the oblique muscles and bring the waist to slim terms. Here we go . .

Position: "Stand" on knees, then simply sit back until buttocks are resting on heels. Hold arms out at sides, shoulder level. Now pull up-and-in snugly with girdle muscles. Don't sit this out — act it out and you'll get the gist of it right off.

Movement: Slowly bend toward the right side, aiming to touch right fingers to floor at right side. Come back to starting position (standing on knees) and bend to the opposite side. Do not crumple in the middle — keep pulling up-and-in forcibly. When you get the hang of the movement, progress by stretching clear to fingertips with the outstretched hand.

REPEAT FOUR times, alternating sides and holding the bias stretch. On the final bend, really stretch, and by sheer force of the abdominal muscles lift the hips just slightly off your heels. Try that again, it's wonderfully slimming.

If you have time for only one exercise, let that be the one. Never skip a day. This single stretch-bend can increase flexibility through the waist area, tone and tighten the abdominals, and slim the middle measurement. What more could you ask from one exercise!

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Should All Suffer Because Of One?

When a teacher is certain that some pupil of her class has stolen, marred or destroyed property, or created some disturbance in the classroom during her absence, she tries to apprehend the offender. Failing in this, she may punish the whole class, in order to make sure of reaching the offender.

By Garry Meyers

A Pennsylvania mother writes: "I would appreciate your views on group punishment.

—:—

"LAST YEAR the 7th grade teacher left the room and the pupils misbehaved. The entire class had to write: 'I will not make unnecessary noise in study hall' one thousand times. This assignment took my son six hours. He had a similar assignment this year in 8th grade, which took him three hours.

"Several teachers use this type of punishment.

"Here are my arguments against it:

"One child should not be punished for another's guilt, because it creates the wrong attitude. My son feels he may as well be in on the fun since he gets punished anyway.

"More important things are neglected. The penalty must be done first. My son neglects home studies and omits his guitar practice period.

"The child becomes overtired, mentally and physically.

"The only reason I have heard for this type of punishment is that a teacher can't pick out the child who is at fault when she returns and finds the room in a turmoil."

—:—

This was my reply, in part:

In the first place, we need to remember that the teacher today has very few means of effective punishment. Let's not be too hard on her. Many of her pupils have never learned self-control and good citizenship at home

If the teacher found the offenders, the penalty she assigned to be carried out at home was hardly too severe for them and she could know when it was paid.

But the fact that the innocent ones should also be punished for another's guilt, doesn't make sense and children will surely feel it is unjust.

On the other hand, the teacher should not try by punishment to compel the innocent to "tell on" the guilty or to appoint one of the children to watch for offenders in her absence and "squeal" on them.

In a certain city, I visited a sixth grade and found the teacher absent.

"Who manages you?" I inquired.

"We manage ourselves," was the reply. And they did it perfectly. That teacher had trained them in self-management — a desirable objective not easily attained today.

My bulletin, "Helping Our Children Succeed At School," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

To Be Presented At Convention

DiSalle Prods Democrats Into Revision Of Platform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Under the prodding of Michael V. DiSalle, the Democratic state platform which will be presented to to the job of revising the platform which will be presented to the state convention late today.

Questioned by newsmen, gubernatorial candidate DiSalle conceded that he objects to some wording of planks tentatively placed in the platform Friday. He declined to specify which planks he dislikes.

Speculation, however, centered on a controversial plank already hammered into the platform dealing with the party's opposition to racketeering. DiSalle is believed to prefer that the plank spell out his opposition to labor union racketeering.

The wording of that plank came in for heated discussion Friday. State Sens. Charles J. Carney of Youngstown and Frank W. King of Toledo objected strenuously to a plank which would single out labor racketeering as its only target.

As a tentative compromise, the platform committee, headed by Judge Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, settled on a general statement opposing racketeering and proposing punative actions against any form of racketeering.

Between committee sessions, delegates gathered this morning to hear Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, candidate for U.S. senator, attack the Republican incumbent, Sen. John W. Bricker.

"While the present Republican senator (Bricker) from Ohio sat as chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee he was, at the same time, being paid a fee by his law firm which handles the Pennsylvania Railroad as a client," Young said. "And his only answer upon being questioned as to the propriety of receiving a $11,500 split from the firm's annual profits was: 'What's wrong with me being a chairman of the committee and receiving money from the law firm? Everyone knows I'm honest.'"

Keynoting the Democratic convention, Sen. Albert Gore (Dd Tenn.) said Friday programs to combat recession, spur military development, aid civil rights, plus a constructive attitude in the field of foreign policy and investigations have made the recently adjourned Democratic Congress the best in 20 years.

As work on the state platform progressed, it was apparent planks will include:

Opposition to the proposal to ban the union shop in Ohio.

A repeat of the 1956 Democrat demand for a fair employment practices law which doesn't mince words.

Condemnation of Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill's vetoing an act last year to make a general increase in fees charged by county officials for special services.

500 Attend Graduation Of Nurses Class

A capacity crowd of 500 with many standing attended the 47th commencement exercises of the City Hospital School of Nursing Friday night in the First United Presbyterian Church at which two of the girls won double recognition. Twelve were graduated.

Miss Lois Marie Cosgrove of Chester received the award for the highest scholastic standing and Miss Nancy Dover of East Liverpool for the second highest. Both awards were given by the Lions Club with H. D. Rist making the presentations.

Miss Costrove also was presented an anonymous award for the most interest in nursing education and Miss Dover the anonymous award for the best all-around nurse.

THE AWARD of the private duty section of the East Liverpool Nurses Alumnae Association, for the best bedside nurse, went to Miss Martha Grace Bennett of Chester, and the Albert I. McLain award for the best dietary nurse to Miss Norma Jean Shaw of East Liverpool.

Other anonymous awards were given Miss Dorothy Ann Bemis of Wellsville, best operating room nurse; Miss Lewanda Marie Sheline of East Liverpool, most interested in professional progress, and Miss Wilma Lovejoy of Midland, third highest in scholastic standing.

Miss Bemis' mother, Mrs. Helen Bemis, is a supervisor at the hospital.

Mrs. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the nursing school committee, announced the award and Mrs. Sarah E. Davis, director of nurses, gave the anonymous awards. Both participated in the presentation of diplomas.

—:—

AFTER RECEIVING their diplomas the graduates recited the Nightingale Pledge and sang "I'll Walk With God" (Brodsky-Webster).

The class made its first appearance in white uniforms, signifying the end of their student status.

Instructors, Mrs. Ila Shingler, Mrs. Mary Kessell, and Mrs. Louise Sloane, led the seniors, juniors and pre - clinic students in the candlelight processional and Mrs. Davis led the graduates, followed by nurses of the hospital staff.

Dr. W. J. Smart, interim pastor of the Irondale and Hammondsville Methodist Churches, spoke on "Nursing As A Career".

HE REMINDED the girls their profession is different from others in that its sole purpose is the relief of suffering.

He keynoted his talk with the phrase from the Nightingale Pledge, "I will practice my profession faithfully," and pointed out that while their training has given them the basic scientific requirements and knowledge they must add compassion to be successful nurses. "Compassion is the world's most urgent need," he declared.

He cited the compassion of Dr. Ida Scudder, who started a hospital in Vallore, India, in 1900 with only one small room and one bed. Now the hospital has grown to 700 beds and there are 287 students enrolled in her medical college. "Compassion is not only curative but creative," he said.

—:—

IN CLOSING, he gave the class three points to enrich their careers.

"First, be sympathetic in the sense of entering into the lives of patients; second, keep a sense of humor — often a joke will do more good than a bottle of medicine, but to be on the safe side administer both, and third, practice mental prayer, "which he defined as "plugging into power."

Dr. Smart was introduced by Everson Hall, a member of the Board of Directors of the City Hospital Association.

Baskets of red and white flowers highlighted the church setting for the ceremonies.

—:—

DR. A. K. Davison, pastor, offered the invocation and benediction and Mrs. Donald M. Ogilvie was organist. Vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Robert E. Metcalfe.

Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent, was present, as well as district officers of the Ohio Nurses Association.

Refreshments were served in the social rooms by the Women's Auxiliary of the City Hospital Association with Mrs. William E. Dunlap Jr., president, in charge. Arrangements of red and white flowers accented table decorations.

3 Boy 'Rustlers' Freed With Charges Dropped

LISBON — A hearing scheduled Thursday in Juvenile Court for a Salineville boy and two from nearby Hayti — apprehended recently in connection with "borrowing" and riding horses from area farms — was canceled following lack of prosecution by the complainants.

The Salineville boy, 15, and the other two, 14, were tracked down by Washington Township Constable Alvin K. Johnston after residents reported masked riders galloping along district roads in the early morning hours.

The youths returned most of the borrowed animals but kept horses of John Dallis of near Hammondsville in a corral on one occasion. The trio was originally turned over to Jefferson County authorities who ordered them to appear before Judge Louis Tobin before the case was settled.

Annexation Move In Fairfield Continues

LISBON — A petition for annexation of 1½ square miles of Fairfield Township to the village of Columbiana was ruled out Friday because of an error in the description, according to Galen Greenisen, president of the Board of County Commissioners, which held a public hearing on the proposal at the Courthouse.

The 116-name petition was filed in June with the commissioners and covered six quarter - sections immediately south of the village.

Apponents yesterday argued that since the word "east" at one point in the description should have read "west," the description did not constitute an enclosure.

The petitioners asked to have the petitioned amended to read correctly and cited cases where this has been done by county commissioners in other counties.

On the advice of County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, they concurred and decided that a new description will have to be drawn and another petition circulated.

Atty. John Bauknecht of East Palestine represented the petitioners and Atty. William Moore of Lisbon the opponents at the hearing, attended by 25 persons.

Picketing Orderly At Ford's Struck Plant At Sandusky

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Picketing was orderly at the struck Ford Motor Co. parts and equipment plant today. A court order limiting picketing was issued Friday following an outbreak of violence.

Some 200 strikers jammed around the plant's four entrances Friday, a company spokesman said. An automobile was upset and several vehicles were stoned. No one was injured.

Judge James McCrystal of Erie County Common Pleas Court issued a temporary restraining order limiting pickets to four at each gate. The order also enjoins strikers from interfering with traffic into or out of the plant.

A company spokesman said there were less than four pickets at some of the gates this morning. The plant was not operating.

A hearing on a company-requested injunction to halt mass picketing was scheduled for today. (11 a. m., EST).

Some 1,400 members of United Auto Workers Local 1216 walked out Wednesday night. Paul Thornbury, local president, said the strike resulted from unsettled grievances which had been the topic of two weeks' negotiations.

Thornbury said at issue were a foreman's "abuse" of workers and cancellation of a procedure by which employes obtained tools and work clothing on company time.

Flexible Waist Needed For Slimness

If you lolled lazily through the summer, tossing calorie caution to the breezes, extra pounds sneaked on. It's almost unbelievable that just three added pounds can spread the middle measurement! But there they are — an extra inch on the waist and another across the abdominal bulge.

Ida Jean Kain

At the moment, the waist is not fashion's darling. But who wants to feel bulky in the middle! Such padding is aging and detracts from our natural flexibility. To keep silken slim and lissome, one must keep flexible in the middle.

Actually, it isn't the waist that widens first, although it appears to, particularly in a dress that is fitted at the waist. The spread originates in the girdle muscles, specifically in the oblique muscles.

—:—

TO GET THE picture of what goes on, place hands at either side of waist, thumbs and forefingers encircling the waist area. Spread the fingers of both hands fan shaped to span the two sides of the abdomen.

Your fingers should cover the bias muscles which span the side-front of the abdomen. These muscles insert sawtooth fashion to the lower ribs, thus controlling the waist and midriff at the sides.

It is plain to see that when these important muscles become soft and lax, the middle measurement is no longer snug and the waist wanders.

Exercise can put the gimp back in the oblique muscles and bring the waist to slim terms. Here we go . .

Position: "Stand" on knees, then simply sit back until buttocks are resting on heels. Hold arms out at sides, shoulder level. Now pull up-and-in snugly with girdle muscles. Don't sit this out — act it out and you'll get the gist of it right off.

Movement: Slowly bend toward the right side, aiming to touch right fingers to floor at right side. Come back to starting position (standing on knees) and bend to the opposite side. Do not crumple in the middle — keep pulling up-and-in forcibly. When you get the hang of the movement, progress by stretching clear to fingertips with the outstretched hand.

REPEAT FOUR times, alternating sides and holding the bias stretch. On the final bend, really stretch, and by sheer force of the abdominal muscles lift the hips just slightly off your heels. Try that again, it's wonderfully slimming.

If you have time for only one exercise, let that be the one. Never skip a day. This single stretch-bend can increase flexibility through the waist area, tone and tighten the abdominals, and slim the middle measurement. What more could you ask from one exercise!

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Should All Suffer Because Of One?

When a teacher is certain that some pupil of her class has stolen, marred or destroyed property, or created some disturbance in the classroom during her absence, she tries to apprehend the offender. Failing in this, she may punish the whole class, in order to make sure of reaching the offender.

By Garry Meyers

A Pennsylvania mother writes: "I would appreciate your views on group punishment.

—:—

"LAST YEAR the 7th grade teacher left the room and the pupils misbehaved. The entire class had to write: 'I will not make unnecessary noise in study hall' one thousand times. This assignment took my son six hours. He had a similar assignment this year in 8th grade, which took him three hours.

"Several teachers use this type of punishment.

"Here are my arguments against it:

"One child should not be punished for another's guilt, because it creates the wrong attitude. My son feels he may as well be in on the fun since he gets punished anyway.

"More important things are neglected. The penalty must be done first. My son neglects home studies and omits his guitar practice period.

"The child becomes overtired, mentally and physically.

"The only reason I have heard for this type of punishment is that a teacher can't pick out the child who is at fault when she returns and finds the room in a turmoil."

—:—

This was my reply, in part:

In the first place, we need to remember that the teacher today has very few means of effective punishment. Let's not be too hard on her. Many of her pupils have never learned self-control and good citizenship at home

If the teacher found the offenders, the penalty she assigned to be carried out at home was hardly too severe for them and she could know when it was paid.

But the fact that the innocent ones should also be punished for another's guilt, doesn't make sense and children will surely feel it is unjust.

On the other hand, the teacher should not try by punishment to compel the innocent to "tell on" the guilty or to appoint one of the children to watch for offenders in her absence and "squeal" on them.

In a certain city, I visited a sixth grade and found the teacher absent.

"Who manages you?" I inquired. "We manage ourselves," was the reply. And they did it perfectly. That teacher had trained them in self-management — a desirable objective not easily attained today.

My bulletin, "Helping Our Children Succeed At School," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Avoid Catastrophes In Your Life

More than 18 years have passed since the dramatic evacuation of the British army from the beaches of Dunkirk. It is difficult now to recall the feeling of desperation that swept the free world at the time. But we can recover the mood of that fateful hour in Winston Churchill's great books concerning World War II: "There was a short service of intercession and prayer in Westminster Abbey," he wrote. "The English are loth to express their feelings, but in my stall in the choir I could feel the pent-up, passionate emotion, and also the fear of the congregation, not of death or wounds or material loss, but of defeat and the final ruin of Britian."

—:—

IT WAS AT this point that the man who eventually became Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander was given command of the retreating British troops at Dunkirk. Gen. Alexander was looking over the all but desperate situation on the ground when a colonel came dashing up to him, saluted and reported, "General, our position is catastrophic!"

Alexander looked calmly at the man, then dismissed him with such comment as this: "Don't use such big words, colonel. Just get busy and get some boys out of here!"

Well, as we all know, not only soldiers, sailors and airmen, but ordinary citizens as well, responded to the national crisis. More than 330,000 troops were taken from Dunkirk harbor and off the beaches in everything from canoes to warships — and the situation was saved from catastrophe.

—:—

CRISES AND possible catastrophes are ever potential problems in life. You can save yourself from catastrophe in your own experience by, first of all, never admitting excitedly to yourself or to others that your position is catastrophic. And no crisis will become catastrophe if you but remember six things:

1.—Don't panic. Never panic. Keep relaxed and calm; try to keep tension out of your nervous system. Don't let panic make your mind hot when it needs most of all to be cool. For only a cool mind can think, and in a crisis you must enable yourself to think creatively. Pray to Almighty God until you calm down and then quietly do something about your situation.

2.—Never overdramatize a situation. That is exactly what the nervous colonel was doing when he reported to Gen. Alexander. Just study the facts, one by one simplifying each, and you'll cut them down to a size that will not frighten you.

3.—Don't spend any time on regrets, but take the situation from where you are. Don't ask yourself why you ever got into this position. Just get busy figuring how to get out of it, and do that, one step at a time. You don't need to find the whole solution all at once. Do what you can now. Other insights will come later.

4.—When you've taken that all-important first step, don't hurry into a second one. This is a good time at which to pray some more and ask for guidance step by step. Pray your way out, insight by insight.

5.—Never take any step without asking yourself — and asking God — if what you are doing is the right thing to do ethically and spiritually. A fundamental principle is this: You can never go wrong doing right. Ask and answer this question: "What is right?" Then do it.

—:—

AND, LAST, but far from least, never give up. Never admit you're licked. When news of the crisis at Dunkirk came to Churchill, he called a meeting of his ministers. The first thing he said to them was, "Of course, whatever happens at Dunkirk, we shall fight on."

The reaction to his statement was amazing; there has never been such a demonstration at a cabinet meeting. "A white glow, overpowering, sublime," wrote Churchill, "ran through our island from end to end." And Britain avoided catastrophe.

Keep such a white glow, overpowering, sublime, alive in your own heart and you will avoid the catastrophes that threaten you in life.

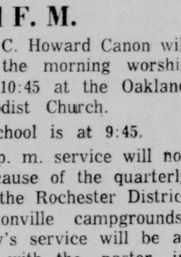
THE SALVATION ARMY



SHELTERING THE HOMELESS

"I was a stranger, and ye took me in." St. Matthew 25:35

One needs only to read the story of "The Good Samaritan" (St. Luke 10: 30-37) to understand the proper attitude to be shown toward a man who may be "down".

Many suffer the loss of all earthly goods through major disasters, but there are also the individual disasters that take place in the lives of men. Living in a world where men are exposed to all kinds of besetments, it is small wonder that a man may be "down on his luck".

Whether through economic adversity or as the prodigal who spent his substance in riotous living, a man may find himself lost in a maze of darkness and confusion, unable to help himself. The Christain—and logical — solution is to provide the homeless with temporary shelter—it is good for the protection of the community, as well as an aid to the individual.

Since 1884, The Salvation Army has endeavored to cope with this need in East Liverpool. Several buildings have been used as shelters through the years, but were eventually condemned. Since that time, tickets for lodging have been issued to various hotels when finances permitted, but the demand exceeds funds available for this purpose.

Future plans to cope with this need suggest the erection of a concrete block shelter with cots, showers, etc. At present we are on the outlook for a temporary location where we can set up operations to meet the need. Perhaps some of our friends are in a position to assist us. There comes the time "when a feller needs a friend".

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Avoid Catastrophes In Your Life

More than 18 years have passed since the dramatic evacuation of the British army from the beaches of Dunkirk. It is difficult now to recall the feeling of desperation that swept the free world at the time. But we can recover the mood of that fateful hour in Winston Churchill's great books concerning World War II: "There was a short service of intercession and prayer in Westminster Abbey," he wrote. "The English are loth to express their feelings, but in my stall in the choir I could feel the pent-up, passionate emotion, and also the fear of the congregation, not of death or wounds or material loss, but of defeat and the final ruin of Britian."

—:—

IT WAS AT this point that the man who eventually became Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander was given command of the retreating British troops at Dunkirk. Gen. Alexander was looking over the all but desperate situation on the ground when a colonel came dashing up to him, saluted and reported, "General, our position is catastrophic!"

Alexander looked calmly at the man, then dismissed him with such comment as this: "Don't use such big words, colonel. Just get busy and get some boys out of here!"

Well, as we all know, not only soldiers, sailors and airmen, but ordinary citizens as well, responded to the national crisis. More than 330,000 troops were taken from Dunkirk harbor and off the beaches in everything from canoes to warships — and the situation was saved from catastrophe.

—:—

CRISES AND possible catastrophes are ever potential problems in life. You can save yourself from catastrophe in your own experience by, first of all, never admitting excitedly to yourself or to others that your position is catastrophic. And no crisis will become catastrophe if you but remember six things:

1.—Don't panic. Never panic. Keep relaxed and calm; try to keep tension out of your nervous system. Don't let panic make your mind hot when it needs most of all to be cool. For only a cool mind can think, and in a crisis you must enable yourself to think creatively. Pray to Almighty God until you calm down and then quietly do something about your situation.

2.—Never overdramatize a situation. That is exactly what the nervous colonel was doing when he reported to Gen. Alexander. Just study the facts, one by one simplifying each, and you'll cut them down to a size that will not frighten you.

3.—Don't spend any time on regrets, but take the situation from where you are. Don't ask yourself why you ever got into this position. Just get busy figuring how to get out of it, and do that, one step at a time. You don't need to find the whole solution all at once. Do what you can now. Other insights will come later.

4.—When you've taken that all-important first step, don't hurry into a second one. This is a good time at which to pray some more and ask for guidance step by step. Pray your way out, insight by insight.

5.—Never take any step without asking yourself — and asking God — if what you are doing is the right thing to do ethically and spiritually. A fundamental principle is this: You can never go wrong doing right. Ask and answer this question: "What is right?" Then do it.

—:—

AND, LAST, but far from least, never give up. Never admit you're licked. When news of the crisis at Dunkirk came to Churchill, he called a meeting of his ministers. The first thing he said to them was, "Of course, whatever happens at Dunkirk, we shall fight on."

The reaction to his statement was amazing; there has never been such a demonstration at a cabinet meeting. "A white glow, overpowering, sublime," wrote Churchill, "ran through our island from end to end." And Britain avoided catastrophe.

Keep such a white glow, overpowering, sublime, alive in your own heart and you will avoid the catastrophes that threaten you in life.

HUMANITY CALLING!

Major William Murtaugh

THE SALVATION ARMY

SHELTERING THE HOMELESS

"I was a stranger, and ye took me in." St. Matthew 25:35

One needs only to read the story of "The Good Samaritan" (St. Luke 10: 30-37) to understand the proper attitude to be shown toward a man who may be "down".

Many suffer the loss of all earthly goods through major disasters, but there are also the individual disasters that take place in the lives of men. Living in a world where men are exposed to all kinds of besetments, it is small wonder that a man may be "down on his luck".

Whether through economic adversity or as the prodigal who spent his substance in riotous living, a man may find himself lost in a maze of darkness and confusion, unable to help himself. The Christain—and logical — solution is to provide the homeless with temporary shelter—it is good for the protection of the community, as well as an aid to the individual.

Since 1884, The Salvation Army has endeavored to cope with this need in East Liverpool. Several buildings have been used as shelters through the years, but were eventually condemned. Since that time, tickets for lodging have been issued to various hotels when finances permitted, but the demand exceeds funds available for this purpose.

Future plans to cope with this need suggest the erection of a concrete block shelter with cots, showers, etc. At present we are on the outlook for a temporary location where we can set up operations to meet the need. Perhaps some of our friends are in a position to assist us. There comes the time "when a feller needs a friend".

Priest Readies Young People For Marriage By Mail Course

By The Associated Press

A 51-year-old globe-trotting Roman Catholic priest is preparing young people in at least 20 countries for marriage by means of a correspondence course.

The Rev. Andre Guay, a priest who was born in Ville Marie, Que., oversees the lessons from his post as director of the University of Ottawa's Catholic Center.

The course consists of 15 lessons prepared with the help of specialists in law, psychology, biology and medicine. It lasts about six months and is open to couples of all faiths.

Lesson titles include "Love and Happiness," "Courtship and Engagements," "Civil Laws Concerning Marriage," and "Anatomy and Physiology." Couples preparing for marriage must study together.

Father Guay says the aim of the course is "encouraging young people to discuss problems together — a habit they will bring into marriage."

The students write tests on each lesson and mail them to course centers for marking. The course center for the United States and Canada is the Ottawa Catholic Center, a rambling stucco building near the university.

Headquarters have been set up in other countries, including Argentina, Basutoland, Belgium, Bolivia, Colombia, Cuba, Spain, France, Holland, Italy, Lebanon, Mexico, New Zealand, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The widespread dispersal of centers enables course directors in various lands to incorporate into the lessons the tradition and individual characteristics of diverse countries.

Since it was set up in 1935 at the recommendation of youth groups in Canada, the enrollment has become so large that Father Guay says he is "losing count of the numbers now."

An estimated 13,000 couples have taken the course in Canada since its beginning. In the first four years of operation in Germany, about 45,000 studied marriage through the mails.

The Quadrangle at the University of Pennsylvania . . . here live hundreds of freshmen from towns and cities all over America. For many it is their first great venture into the world of responsibility and temptation. It is a crucial year . . . and they live it in a community all their own, surrounded by the teeming millions of a great city!

An important part of their life is the Christian Association, augmenting the programs of the campus churches. There are wholesome social activities, challenging discussion groups, services of worship, opportunities for community service.

Here, as on almost every college campus, the Church is on the job. Its specially-trained leaders are guiding our sons and daughters in their adjustment to college life and the complicated world of opportunity and danger.

Are you helping the Church in its far-reaching ministry? Are you providing the religious home life and church-centered spiritual training that a boy and girl need BEFORE THEY GO OUT INTO THE WORLD?

Priest Readies Young People For Marriage By Mail Course

By The Associated Press

A 51-year-old globe-trotting Roman Catholic priest is preparing young people in at least 20 countries for marriage by means of a correspondence course.

The Rev. Andre Guay, a priest who was born in Ville Marie, Que., oversees the lessons from his post as director of the University of Ottawa's Catholic Center.

The course consists of 15 lessons prepared with the help of specialists in law, psychology, biology and medicine. It lasts about six months and is open to couples of all faiths.

Lesson titles include "Love and Happiness," "Courtship and Engagements," "Civil Laws Concerning Marriage," and "Anatomy and Physiology." Couples preparing for marriage must study together.

Father Guay says the aim of the course is "encouraging young people to discuss problems together — a habit they will bring into marriage."

The students write tests on each lesson and mail them to course centers for marking. The course center for the United States and Canada is the Ottawa Catholic Center, a rambling stucco building near the university.

Headquarters have been set up in other countries, including Argentina, Basutoland, Belgium, Bolivia, Colombia, Cuba, Spain, France, Holland, Italy, Lebanon, Mexico, New Zealand, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The widespread dispersal of centers enables course directors in various lands to incorporate into the lessons the tradition and individual characteristics of diverse countries.

Since it was set up in 1935 at the recommendation of youth groups in Canada, the enrollment has become so large that Father Guay says he is "losing count of the numbers now."

An estimated 13,000 couples have taken the course in Canada since its beginning. In the first four years of operation in Germany, about 45,000 studied marriage through the mails.

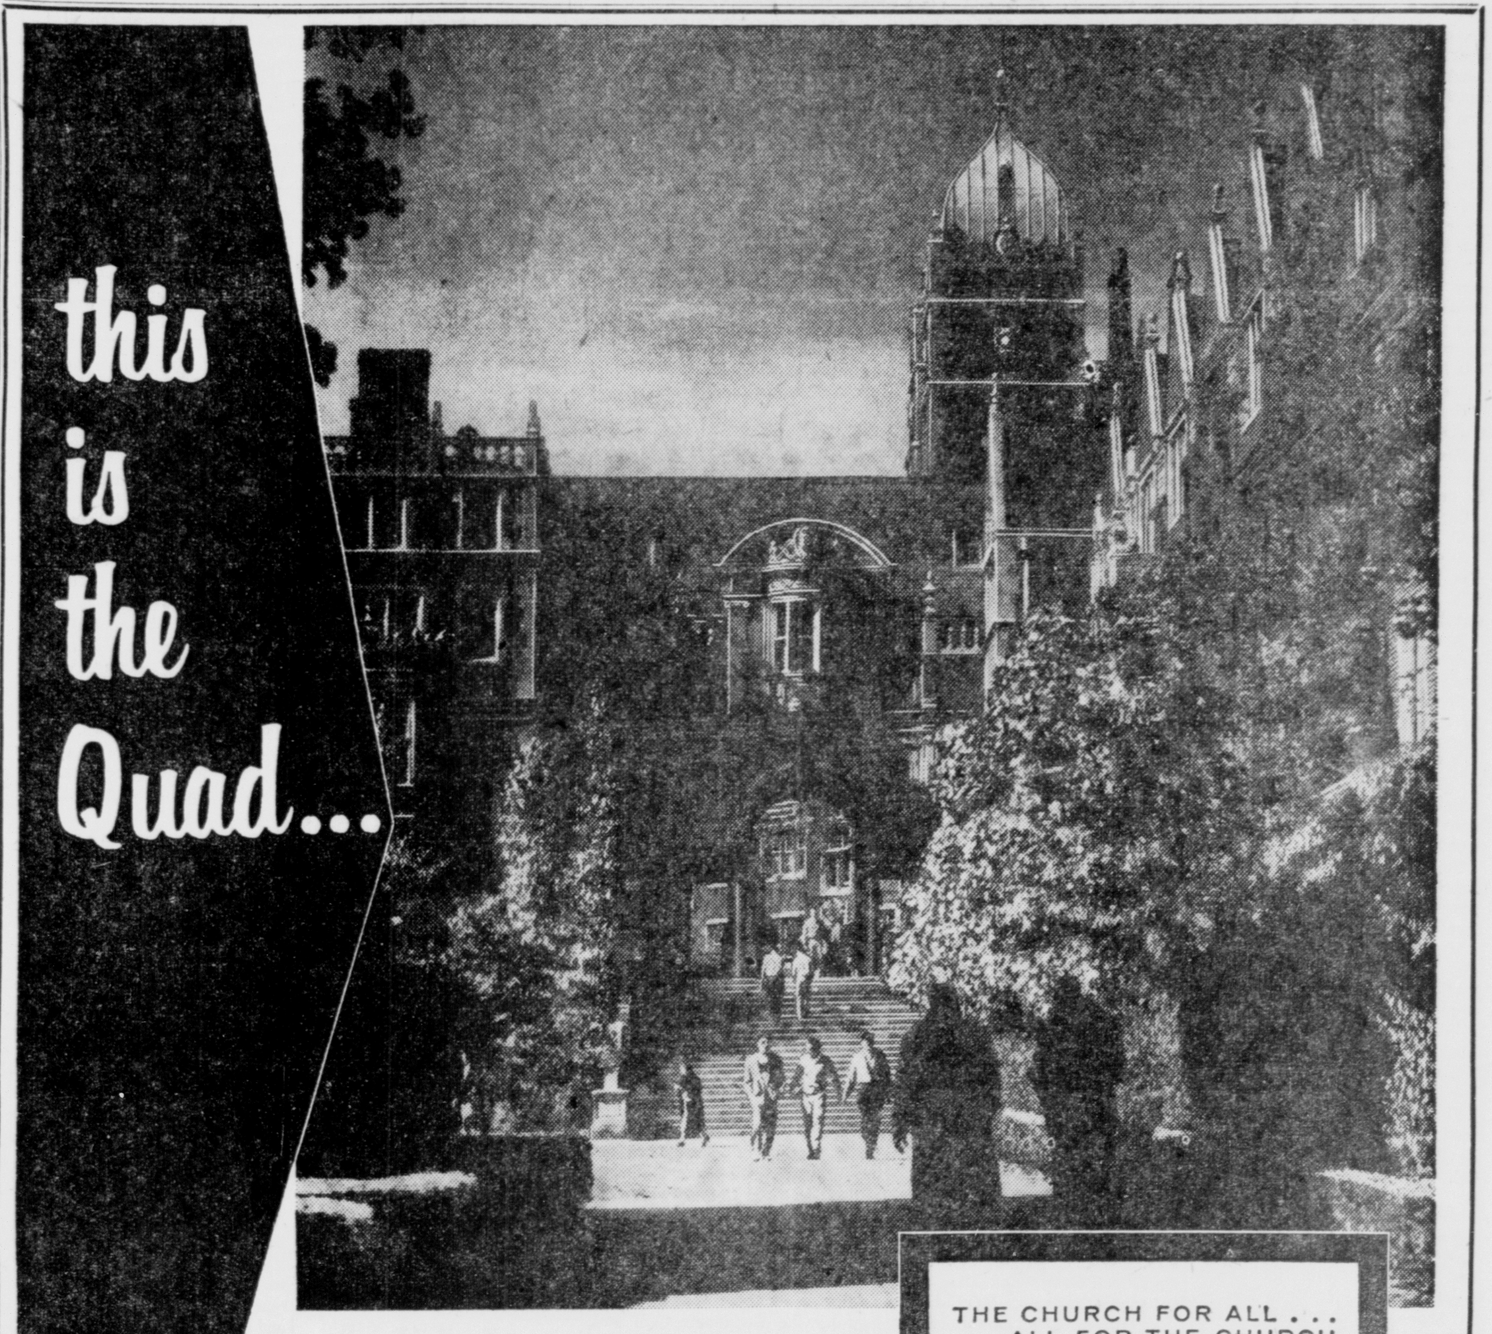
Additional Church News On Page 9



The Quadrangle at the University of Pennsylvania . . . here live hundreds of freshmen from towns and cities all over America. For many it is their first great venture into the world of responsibility and temptation. It is a crucial year . . . and they live it in a community all their own, surrounded by the teeming millions of a great city!

An important part of their life is the Christian Association, augmenting the programs of the campus churches. There are wholesome social activities, challenging discussion groups, services of worship, opportunities for community service.

Here, as on almost every college campus, the Church is on the job. Its specially-trained leaders are guiding our sons and daughters in their adjustment to college life and the complicated world of opportunity and danger.

Are you helping the Church in its far-reaching ministry? Are you providing the religious home life and church-centered spiritual training that a boy and girl need BEFORE THEY GO OUT INTO THE WORLD?

BLOOR'S PHARMACY MONTHLY NEWS

A message from Paul Bloor, 'Your Pharmacist'

SELF MEDICATION CAN BE DANGEROUS.
There is no machine invented that is as complex as your own body. Yet, when something is wrong with their body, some people attempt to correct it themselves.

CORRECT DIAGNOSIS IS NECESSARY TO PROPER TREATMENT.
It is almost impossible for any untrained person to repair a modern machine. Only skilled, experienced people are entrusted with such work. Since your body is ever so much more difficult to repair, why let anyone who is not an expert, even yourself, tinker with it?

ONLY A PHYSICIAN HAS THE KNOWLEDGE AND TRAINING.
At first sign of any illness, let him discover the cause, instead of depending on home remedies that usually only give temporary relief.

LET YOUR PHYSICIAN PRESCRIBE PROPER MEDICATION.
From the many medicines in a prescription pharmacy he will specify the particular one best for you. You will save much future sickness time, perhaps even your life, if you follow this sincere advice.

Religion At Work

By Eugene Carr

Don't Worry About The College Students

If your son or daughter is going to college this fall, no doubt you have some fears as to the moral influences to which he or she may be subjected while away from home. Such fears on the part of parents are only natural.

But any fear you may have in this respect will be reduced greatly if you will but urge the young man or woman student in your family to take advantage of the religious training offered by the college and become active in the church organizations to be found on most college campuses.

Never in history has the interest in religion, by students and faculty alike, been at such a high level. And this interest definitely is founded on a sincere search for the true meaning of life and the place of religion in it. It is not an emotional or social outlet; it springs from all segments of the campus population.

-:-

A RECENT SURVEY tells us that student demand for courses in religious subjects is so great today that classroom facilities and teaching personnel cannot keep up with it.

Some of the larger universities hold as many as six campus church services on Sunday to accommodate those who want to attend.

Young men and women are turning with increasing regularity to their college pastors and chaplains for counseling on school problems, marriage and social and personality conflicts.

The head of a large Eastern school is quoted as saying, "Students today make up our most eager, responsive church congregations."

This is the environment your son or daughter can choose while away from home. It's there, ready and available, for all who want it. And in making this choice there need be no question as to the popularity of it.

-:-

WE HEAR rumblings to the contrary from time to time. We hear that the college student doubts the existence of God, calls religion a "crutch" for the weak and unwanted to lean upon, looks upon material comforts and personal gains as the principal sources of happiness and success.

But facts prove that these are the opinions of a minority and by no means represent the broad cross-section of the student body of most colleges.

When you take your youngster to school this fall or visit the campus later on, stop by the student center or nearby church maintained by your denomination. Meet those in charge. See the work they are doing with young people from all points of the world and all walks of life. Urge your son or daughter to become a part of this.

As a young man put it not long ago, "Your religious life on the campus is the only experience you'll have throughout your college career that does not require a difficult adjustment to things that are strange and new."

2,400 Auto Workers Quit At GM Plant

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Local 969 of the United Auto Workers went on strike against General Motor's Moraine Products Division here today.

About 2,400 union members are involved in the strike. Peaceful picketing is under way at the plant gates.

Scheduling of overtime for some workers, while others with seniority are still laid off, was given as the cause for the strike by Ed Hinton, chairman of the union's bargaining committee.

Calvin Werner, general manager of the plant, said laid off workers are being called back at a rapid pace and 1,716 have returned since the middle of August. He said 118 more are in the process of being called back.

Werner referred to a statement by Louid G. Seaton of Detroit, General Motors vice president in charge of personnel, who charged Thursday that the UAW is raising a phony issue. Seaton contends the union "knows it is absolutely necessary to work certain skilled men overtime during the first phases of a new model run."

The Dayton plant here makes brakes and engine bearings for 1959 model GM cars.

There was no immediate indication of a negotiating session to settle the dispute.

GOP To Pay Rest Of Tax Due On Picnics In January

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Republican campaign committee, reminded by a Democrat that it owed sales tax on meals served at 11 GOP campaign picnics, said the rest will be paid in January when tax reports for the last half of this year are due.

Dale Fulton, chairman of the O'Neill for Governor Dinner Committee, turned over $681.96 to the state treasurer's office Friday.

He said the money represented the sales tax due on a picnic for Gov. C. William O'Neill in Lebanon last June 27 and on preprimary dinners in Marietta, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton and Cleveland. It also includes a $36 penalty for failure to pay taxes due after July 31 on meals served during the first half of the year.

Merrill D. Brothers, a Columbus attorney and a Democratic nominee for the Ohio Supreme Court, raised the question of the tax earlier this week in a letter to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe. Brothers estimated the GOP committee owed $6,000. He also suggested that Saxbe investigate the possibility that the committee gave tickets away free in violation of a law prohibiting candidates or committees from giving anything of value to voters.

Saxbe said, however, it is a matter for the state tax department unless the taxes are not paid.

The $681.96 represented a six-cent tax on 10,766 $2 dinners, Fulton said. He gave no breakdown on the number of meals served at the Lebanon picnic.

Never in history has the interest in religion, by students and faculty alike, been at such a high level. And this interest definitely is founded on a sincere search for the true meaning of life and the place of religion in it. It is not an emotional or social outlet; it springs from all segments of the campus population.

-:-

A RECENT SURVEY tells us that student demand for courses in religious subjects is so great today that classroom facilities and teaching personnel cannot keep up with it.

Some of the larger universities hold as many as six campus church services on Sunday to accommodate those who want to attend.

Young men and women are turning with increasing regularity to their college pastors and chaplains for counseling on school problems, marriage and social and personality conflicts.

The head of a large Eastern school is quoted as saying, "Students today make up our most eager, responsive church congregations."

This is the environment your son or daughter can choose while away from home. It's there, ready and available, for all who want it. And in making this choice there need be no question as to the popularity of it.

-:-

WE HEAR rumblings to the contrary from time to time. We hear that the college student doubts the existence of God, calls religion a "crutch" for the weak and unwanted, to lean upon, looks upon material comforts and personal gains as the principal sources of happiness and success.

But facts prove that these are the opinions of a minority and by no means represent the broad cross-section of the student body of most colleges.

When you take your youngster to school this fall or visit the campus later on, stop by the student center or nearby church maintained by your denomination. Meet those in charge. See the work they are doing with young people from all points of the world and all walks of life. Urge your son or daughter to become a part of this.

As a young man put it not long ago, "Your religious life on the campus is the only experience you'll have throughout your college career that does not require a difficult adjustment to things that are strange and new."

2,400 Auto Workers Quit At GM Plant

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Local 969 of the United Auto Workers went on strike against General Motor's Moraine Products Division here today.

About 2,400 union members are involved in the strike. Peaceful picketing is under way at the plant gates.

Scheduling of overtime for some workers, while others with seniority are still laid off, was given as the cause for the strike by Ed Hinton, chairman of the union's bargaining committee.

Calvin Werner, general manager of the plant, said laid off workers are being called back at a rapid pace and 1,716 have returned since the middle of August. He said 118 more are in the process of being called back.

Werner referred to a statement by Louid G. Seaton of Detroit, General Motors vice president in charge of personnel, who charged Thursday that the UAW is raising a phony issue. Seaton contends the union "knows it is absolutely necessary to work certain skilled men overtime during the first phases of a new model run."

The Dayton plant here makes brakes and engine bearings for 1959 model GM cars.

There was no immediate indication of a negotiating session to settle the dispute.

GOP To Pay Rest Of Tax Due On Picnics In January

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Republican campaign committee, reminded by a Democrat that it owed sales tax on meals served at 11 GOP campaign picnics, said the rest will be paid in January when tax reports for the last half of this year are due.

Dale Fulton, chairman of the O'Neill for Governor Dinner Committee, turned over $681.96 to the state treasurer's office Friday.

He said the money represented the sales tax due on a picnic for Gov. C. William O'Neill in Lebanon last June 27 and on preprimary dinners in Marietta, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton and Cleveland. It also includes a $36 penalty for failure to pay taxes due after July 31 on meals served during the first half of the year.

Merrill D. Brothers, a Columbus attorney and a Democratic nominee for the Ohio Supreme Court, raised the question of the tax earlier this week in a letter to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe. Brothers estimated the GOP committee owed $6,000. He also suggested that Saxbe investigate the possibility that the committee gave tickets away free in violation of a law prohibiting candidates or committees from giving anything of value to voters.

Saxbe said, however, it is a matter for the state tax department unless the taxes are not paid.

The $681.96 represented a six-cent tax on 10,766 $2 dinners, Fulton said. He gave no breakdown on the number of meals served at the Lebanon picnic.

Record Crowd Attends Fourth Annual Grid Preview Here

Chester, Cumberland Tie; Power Failure Delays Game

Potters Beat Wellsville In One Of Games

By CHUCK CRONIN

Perfect football weather drew an estimated 5,000 fans to Patterson Field Friday night where 10 district teams battled for 16 minutes each in the fourth annual grid preview of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The attendance showed a sizable increase over that of last year and was the largest gathering for the preview in four years running.

Close and exciting games were the rule rather than the exception and the fans who witnessed the extravaganza were treated to a fast-moving preliminary of what may happen when regular season competition unfolds next Friday night.

The winners of the abbreviated contests were East Liverpool, Leetonia, Salineville and Lisbon. Columbiana and Toronto battled to a 0-0 tie in their game.

The Potters scored early in downing a plucky Wellsville eleven and were knocking at the gate again when the game ended.

Leetonia rolled over United Local in the preview opener, 14-0, Salineville slipped by Beaver Local, 12-6, and Lisbon surprised highly-regarded Salem, 6-0.

Irondale Loses, 6-0 To Adena In Preview

Irondale was dropped by Adena, 6-0, on a last - minute pass in the Steubenville football preview Friday night.

Bob Jones heaved the game-winning aerial to Steve Kokovich who scored the touchdown. Irondale had offensive troubles as it failed to produce a first down in 16 minutes of action. Nearly 9,000 attended.

East Liverpool

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters unveiled a flashy running game in disposing of Wellsville's Tigers, 8-0, as four veteran backs moved the ball well.

Quarterback Bob Mackall sparked the Potter offense with his slick running on keeper plays, while the churning drives of fullback Bill O'Neil and halfbacks Dave Zelch and John Goodballet helped keep the team moving.

If last night's performance was a true indication as to the future, Coach Ken Woods will have just about solved the problem of finding a quarterback to run his T-formation at Wellsville.

Sophomore signal - caller Bob Kiggans turned in a creditable performance for his first test at the slot and should fit into the job rather nicely for the Tigers who open with Austintown Fitch Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

The Potters took only 10 running plays to hit pay dirt after receiving the kickoff from Wellsville's Bob Delposen, with Mackall punching across on a keeper from the three-yard line.

The touchdown climaxed a drive of 52 yards.

Dave Zelch's plunge for the extra point — counting two instead of the usual one because of the new option rule — gave the Potters an 8-0 margin with 3:34 remaining in the first eight-minute period.

Following the kickoff, the Tigers moved deep into East Liverpool territory on a perfect pass from Kiggans to right end Bob Brown, who made a nice catch and was downed on the East Liverpool 35.

However, Wellsville's running game stalled after it had carried to the Potter 25. The Tigers lost the ball on downs and their only scoring chance.

The Potters took over and marched to the Wellsville 15 before fumbling. Again the Tigers failed to produce any sizable yardage with their running game and when the game ended, East Liverpool had possession on the Wellsville 28.

Three Potter regulars, guard Nick Musuraca, end Craig Burbick and tackle Jim Clunk did not dress for the preview. They are still nursing injuries received in practice sessions.

Lisbon

In one of the closest games of the night, Coach Bud Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils kayoed high-powered Salem, 6-0, by staging a 90-yard drive in the second period.

Lisbon exhibited a smooth-as-silk offense featuring small but fleet backs and the excellent ball-handling and running of quarterback Denny Reese.

Reese scored Lisbon's touchdown after engineering the scoring march to the 1-yard line. A sneak across the middle from his quarterback post did the trick.

Giant fullback Lou Slaby, a 6-4 inch 200-pound plus senior, triggered Salem's running attack with smashing line bucks which Lisbon found hard to stop.

Slaby, who moves into the middle of the line on defense occasionally when not playing linebacker, kept Salem's offense moving along with halfbacks Ehrhart and Phillis.

Coach Earl Bruce has 19 lettermen in the fold and is rated a favorite over Cleveland John Marshall in Friday's opener despite last night's loss.

Lisbon attempted a place kick for its extra-point try after the lone touchdown between the Columbiana County rivals and it was the only one-point try of the night following any of the preview's six touchdowns.

Salineville

Passing whiz Larry Kessler took to the air in the dying minutes of the second period and flipped a pass to halfback Rich Dunlap in a scoring play which covered 55 yards as Salineville broke a 6-6 tie and clipped Beaver Local, 12-6.

Coach Dick Jones' pupils had registered six points early in the first quarter when Dunlap turned in one of the best runs of the night with a 26-yard jaunt across the goal line on a pitchout from Kessler.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers, dressed in natty red and white uniforms, had a case of fumblitis which led to Salineville's first score.

Beaver Local scored its touchdown with 1:40 left in the second quarter after capitalizing on a Salineville fumble on the Indians' 35-yard stripe.

Fred Needs sparked the scoring drive and set up his own touchdown with an 18-yard sprint around right end. He scored from the one-yard line over left tackle on a fourth down.

Dunlap, one of Salineville's best ball carriers, hauled in a pass from Kessler seconds later and traveled into the end zone with 36 seconds remaining to ice the game.

Leetonia

Huge-striding fullback Bob Osterling racked up two touchdowns in leading Pat Mancuso's Leetonia Polar Bears to a 14-0 victory over spunky Unity.

With a good-sized player at every position, Leetonia wasted no time in putting figures on the score board in the preview opener as Osterling tore through a gaping hole in United's line and scurried 41 yards for a touchdown.

He also smashed across the middle on a handoff for Leetonia's extra point and an 8-0 lead with less than two minutes of playing time gone.

United flashed a scrappy defense headed by two heavyweights, Jim Summers and Shagnot, but an erratic offense hampered by fumbles on poor handoffs prevented it from scoring.

Ferry recovered one of two consecutive fumbles by United late in the first quarter which set up Leetonia's second touchdown. Osterling capped a drive of 44 yards with a short plunge for his second touchdown. It came with 1:37 left in the first quarter.

The second quarter was more even with each team failing to keep a scoring march moving and ended with United in possession near the midfield stripe after making a nice gain on a fake kick.

Columbiana

In the only game of the five which saw no touchdowns scored, Columbiana over-ran Toronto easily but couldn't call the right play at the right time and had to settle for a scoreless tie.

Columbiana had the better running and passing game and took advantage of the weak section of Toronto's middle line, which may mean trouble for Coach Earl Biederman.

Toronto, which ran only three plays in the first quarter, flashed an erratic offense lacking polish. However, the defense was more than adequate to stop Columbiana's ball carriers when necessary. The Red Knights sorely lack manpower.

Only 29 were dressed for the game and the squad lists only some 34. Several gridders were out with injuries last night.

Columbiana, while not scoring, did manage to penetrate to the Toronto 9-yard line late in the second period after recovering a fumble on the Toronto 26.

However, nine running plays carried only to the 9 and the Toronto line tightened and Columbiana lost the ball on downs.

Toronto was in possession when the game ended after Logan had intercepted one of several last-minute passes thrown by Columbiana's quarterback Baltz.

Tough Slate Given Stress By Venditti

The rugged season ahead for East Liverpool's Potters was stressed by Coach Lou Venditti in a talk on the prospects of this year's football team before the Lions Club Friday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Venditti expressed concern over the lack of manpower and depth on this year's squad, while naming a starting lineup for the Sept. 12 opener with Akron St. Vincent, predicted to be one of the strongest teams the Potters will meet this season.

He introduced other members of the team's coaching staff, including Bob Hedmond, Ray Peduzzi and Nunzio Polishene.

Venditti pointed out that untried sophomores will be depended on to fill the gaps left when his regulars leave the game.

The film, "Meet The Potters," was shown. It was made possible through efforts of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The Lions' Board of Directors will meet Monday night at the Vagabond Lodge near the Crockery City Farms, Don Baxter, president, announced. The meeting will begin at 8.

Phoenix Giants Wrap Up Pacific Coast Flag

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Giants clinched the Pacific Coast League baseball pennant Friday night with a homer-studded 10-8 victory over Vancouver. The Giants hit three homers to bring their total for the year to 200.

The Giants lead the second-place San Diego Padres 3½ games with only 3 left for each to play. San Diego also won Friday night, defeating Salt Lake City 16-4.

14-14 Battle Kicks Off Area Grid Season

By ROB NIBLOCK

Two Hancock County grid rivals Chester and New Cumberland — battled to a 14-14 tie Friday night at Chester City Park as they launched the district's 1958 football season.

Some 1,200 fans looked on as Chester's only returning letterman from last year's powerhouse, fullback Don Shaw, punched across two first-half touchdowns.

New Cumberland, thirsting for revenge for last year's 35-0 defeat, scored its first touchdown in the second quarter and then rallied late in the game for the second marker that meant a tie.

—:—

WHILE New Cumberland didn't come up with a victory, the tie at least gave Coach Charlie Miller the satisfaction of ending an 11-game losing streak—one of the district's longest.

New Cumberland, a slight favorite at game time because of a dozen returning lettermen, flashed a fair running and passing game, but the defense failed to halt the slashing drives of Shaw, a 180-pound senior.

A power failure delayed the start of the game for nearly two hours. But the crowd, encouraged by the peppy bands, remained in good spirits while electricians searched for the short circuit that had darkened the stadium.

—:—

CHESTER drew first blood when it scored with 4:48 remaining in the first period after New Cumberland's running game had fizzled out on its own 25, Harris gambling on fourth down.

The Panthers took possession on the 20 and required only six plays to register, Shaw capping the drive with a three-yard plunge over the middle.

Ken Sayre converted the extra point on a run from scrimmage to make the score 7-0. West Virginia doesn't observe the new option rule now in effect in Ohio.

Following the kickoff, the Raiders began a touchdown march which started on their own 36 and spanned two periods of play. The drive of 64 yards was capped by fullback Phil Cullen who smashed over from the three.

Cullen, a speedster, had set up the score with a 32-yard jaunt off tackle before being pulled down from behind by tackle Steve Chapko on the three-yard stripe. Harris' kick for the extra point made the score 7-7 with 11:57 showing on the stadium clock.

However, Chester roared back in the second period when tackle Larry McSwegin pounced on a New Cumberland fumble on the 12-yard line and Shaw once more went into the end zone, this time taking only three plays to turn the trick.

SAYRE crashed over for the extra point, making the score 14-7 in favor of Chester just before halftime.

New Cumberland's final touchdown, which resulted in the tie ball game, came midway in the fourth period when Harris tossed a pass to Reese, who hauled it in on the four-yard line and Harris later ran the pigskin across. Harris then kicked the game - tieing point. The final touchdown drive of New Cumberland began on its own 43 after the Chester offense had bogged down.

Chester almost broke the deadlock after the final New Cumberland tally. The Panthers moved the ball from their own 36 to the New Cumberland 17, only to see victory slip through the hands of Shaw, who dropped a fourth down pass on the New Cumberland five-yard line with 1:28 remaining. The versatile fullback outmaneuvered the defense, but was unable to hold on to the well-placed Dave Brookes aerial.

New Cumberland, apparently content with the tie, ran out the clock with successive ground plays after taking over on the 17.

The Raiders had the first down edge, 10-9, with Harris' passing responsible for three of them. The capable quarterback completed three of eight forwards and ran well on the keeper.

Cullen and halfbacks Bill Freshnor and Bob Reese carried the running burden, playing nearly the entire contest without relief.

Shaw's running was outstanding for Chester, but he got good support from halfbacks Bill Mayhew and Sayre.

Quarterback Brockes kept the offense running smoothly, but failed to complete a pass in three attempts.

Coach Dom Amedeo appeared pleased with his charges after the game, commenting that they had done a good job considering the experience of the Raider eleven.

Virdon's Homer Did It

Bucs' George Witt Shuts Out Braves Second Time, 1-0

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves may have run away with the National League pennant, but they're getting no where fast against rookie right-hander George Witt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The champs have had two runins with the kid from Laguna Beach, Calif., and haven't scored a run off him yet.

Witt, 24, became the first to hang two shutouts on the Braves this season, by beating Milwaukee 1-0 Friday night with a five-hitter and Bill Virdon's leadoff home run in the 10th inning.

Witt's only other work against the Braves was a two-hit, 10-0 shutout August 12.

By out-scrapping Carl Willey, Witt hoisted the Bucs back into a second place tie with San Francisco, 8½ games behind the Braves. The Giants were idled by rain at Chicago.

Cincinnati rapped Philadelphia 8-4, and Los Angeles, held to three hits, defeated St. Louis 2-1 in the other NL games.

In the American League, Washington defeated first place New York 6-3, the Chicago White Sox, beat Cleveland 4-3, Boston clobbered Baltimore 10-2 and Detroit knocked off Kansas City 4-1.

Pitching for the first time in nine days because of an inflamed elbow, Witt walked four and struck out three, fanning Willey for all of them. Willey (9-5), who gave seven hits and walked four but left nine on base, struck out five, whiffing Witt four times.

The Dodgers got all their hits in the second inning off loser Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. Fred Kipp (6-4) won it with relief help, giving up the run in the second on three of the Cards' seven hits and an infield out.

Don Newcombe (6-11) won his fourth in a row, giving up nine of the Phils' dozen hits and beating Robin Roberts (14-13) for the second time in five days with Brooks Lawrence's relief help.

Brewer Posts 6th Straight; Yanks Beaten

By The Associated Press

Tom Brewer, one of the pitchers Boston hoped would provide a chance at the American League pennant, finally has come around to perk up the Red Sox' closing shot for second place.

The lean right-hander, just turned 27, didn't get started until after the All-Star game, when the Red Sox were already a dozen games behind first place New York. After winning 35 games in 1956-57, Brewer had won only three of 10 decisions for the first three months of the season.

Now, with the Sox running only a game and a half behind second place Chicago, Brewer has won six straight and seven of his last eight decisions.

Brewer padded his record to 11-10 Friday night, setting down Baltimore on four singles as Boston belted the Brids 10-2.

Washington blew a 3-0 lead, but beat the Yankees 6-3, the White Sox got past Cleveland 4-3 and Detroit rapped Kansas City 4-1 in the other AL games.

In the National League, rookie George Witt allowed but five hits as Pittsburgh defeated first place Milwaukee 1-0 in 10 innings. Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 2-1 and Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 3-4. San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs were rained out.

The Senators made it when Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren, now 6-4, walked in three runs with two out in the ninth. Roy Sievers' 35th home run and Albie Pearson's third, a two-run shot, gave the Nats their early lead against 20-game winner Bob Turley. But Russ Kemmerer, who had a no-hitter for five innings, finally was chased in the eighth, when the Yanks scored two for a tie. Dick Hyde (10-3) was the relief winner, and now has figured in more than half of Washington's 56 victories.

A pinch, two-run double by Sherm Lollar and a winning single by Jim Landis brought the White Sox from behind in the seventh inning against losing reliever Herb Score (2-3). Early Wynn (13-13) was the winner for a 4-0 record against his old mates.

The Tigers scored three runs in the first on Al Kaline's 14th homer and Frank Bolling's two-run double. Paul Foytack (12-11) then breezed with a five-hitter, winning three straight for the first time this season. Ned Garver (11-10) was the loser.

Ohio State Plans Defense Against Passes Of SMU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State has an eye to the sky in early scrimmage, apparently in an effort to devise a pass defense against Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

In scrimmage Friday, for example, 9 of 26 plays attempted were for passes. Fourteen passes actually got launched.

Coach Woody Hayes, who has primarily emphasized moving the ball on the ground, confirmed that the purpose of the scrimmage was to test Ohio State's pass defense, not perfect an aerial attack. He called the pass defense "not bad, not bad."

Potters Beat Wellsville In One Of Games

By CHUCK CRONIN

Perfect football weather drew an estimated 5,000 fans to Patterson Field Friday night where 10 district teams battled for 16 minutes each in the fourth annual grid preview of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The attendance showed a sizable increase over that of last year and was the largest gathering for the preview in four years running.

Close and exciting games were the rule rather than the exception and the fans who witnessed the extravaganza were treated to a fast-moving preliminary of what may happen when regular season competition unfolds next Friday night.

The winners of the abbreviated contests were East Liverpool, Leetonia, Salineville and Lisbon. Columbiana and Toronto battled to a 0-0 tie in their game.

The Potters scored early in downing a plucky Wellsville eleven and were knocking at the gate again when the game ended.

Leetonia rolled over United Local in the preview opener, 14-0, Salineville slipped by Beaver Local, 12-6, and Lisbon surprised highly-regarded Salem, 6-0.

East Liverpool

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters unveiled a flashy running game in disposing of Wellsville's Tigers, 8-0, as four veteran backs moved the ball well.

Quarterback Bob Mackall sparked the Potter offense with his slick running on keeper plays, while the churning drives of fullback Bill O'Neil and halfbacks Dave Zelch and John Goodballet helped keep the team moving.

If last night's performance was a true indication as to the future, Coach Ken Woods will have just about solved the problem of finding a quarterback to run his T-formation at Wellsville.

Sophomore signal - caller Bob Kiggans turned in a creditable performance for his first test at the slot and should fit into the job rather nicely for the Tigers who open with Austintown Fitch Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

The Potters took only 10 running plays to hit pay dirt after receiving the kickoff from Wellsville's Bob Delposen, with Mackall punching across on a keeper from the three-yard line.

The touchdown climaxed a drive of 52 yards.

Dave Zelch's plunge for the extra point — counting two instead of the usual one because of the new option rule — gave the Potters an 8-0 margin with 3:34 remaining in the first eight-minute period.

Following the kickoff, the Tigers moved deep into East Liverpool territory on a perfect pass from Kiggans to right end Bob Brown, who made a nice catch and was downed on the East Liverpool 35.

However, Wellsville's running game stalled after it had carried to the Potter 25. The Tigers lost the ball on downs and their only scoring chance.

The Potters took over and marched to the Wellsville 15 before fumbling. Again the Tigers failed to produce any sizable yardage with their running game and when the game ended, East Liverpool had possession on the Wellsville 28.

Three Potter regulars, guard Nick Musuraca, end Craig Burbick and tackle Jim Clunk did not dress for the preview. They are still nursing injuries received in practice sessions.

Lisbon

In one of the closest games of the night, Coach Bud Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils kayoed high-powered Salem, 6-0, by staging a 90-yard drive in the second period.

Lisbon exhibited a smooth-as-silk offense featuring small but fleet backs and the excellent ball-handling and running of quarterback Denny Reese.

Reese scored Lisbon's touchdown after engineering the scoring march to the 1-yard line. A sneak across the middle from his quarterback post did the trick.

Giant fullback Lou Slaby, a 6-4 inch 200-pound plus senior, triggered Salem's running attack with smashing line bucks which Lisbon found hard to stop.

Slaby, who moves into the middle of the line on defense occasionally when not playing linebacker, kept Salem's offense moving along with halfbacks Ehrhart and Phillis.

Coach Earl Bruce has 10 lettermen in the fold and is rated a favorite over Cleveland John Marshall in Friday's opener despite last night's loss.

Lisbon attempted a place kick for its extra-point try after the lone touchdown between the Columbiana County rivals and it was the only one-point try of the night following any of the preview's six touchdowns.

Salineville

Passing whiz Larry Kessler took to the air in the dying minutes of the second period and flipped a pass to halfback Rich Dunlap in a scoring play which covered 55 yards as Salineville broke a 6-6 tie and clipped Beaver Local, 12-6.

Coach Dick Jones' pupils had registered six points early in the first quarter when Dunlap turned in one of the best runs of the night with a 26-yard jaunt across the goal line on a pitchout from Kessler.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers, dressed in natty red and white uniforms, had a case of fumblitis which led to Salineville's first score.

Beaver Local scored its touchdown with 1:40 left in the second quarter after capitalizing on a Salineville fumble on the Indians' 35-yard stripe.

Fred Needs sparked the scoring drive and set up his own touchdown with an 18-yard sprint around right end. He scored from the one-yard line over left tackle on a fourth down.

Dunlap, one of Salineville's best ball carriers, hauled in a pass from Kessler seconds later and traveled into the end zone with 36 seconds remaining to ice the game.

Leetonia

Huge-striding fullback Bob Osterling racked up two touchdowns in leading Pat Mancuso's Leetonia Polar Bears to a 14-0 victory over spunky Unity.

With a good-sized player at every position, Leetonia wasted no time in putting figures on the score board in the preview opener as Osterling tore through a gaping hole in United's line and scurried 41 yards for a touchdown.

He also smashed across the middle on a handoff for Leetonia's extra point and an 8-0 lead with less than two minutes of playing time gone.

United flashed a scrappy defense headed by two heavyweights, Jim Summers and Shagnot, but an erratic offense hampered by fumbles on poor handoffs prevented it from scoring.

Ferry recovered one of two consecutive fumbles by United late in the first quarter which set up Leetonia's second touchdown. Osterling capped a drive of 44 yards with a short plunge for his second touchdown. It came with 1:37 left in the first quarter.

The second quarter was more even with each team failing to keep a scoring march moving and ended with United in possession near the midfield stripe after making a nice gain on a fake kick.

Columbiana

In the only game of the five which saw no touchdowns scored, Columbiana over-ran Toronto easily but couldn't call the right play at the right time and had to settle for a scoreless tie.

Columbiana had the better running and passing game and took advantage of the weak section of Toronto's middle line, which may mean trouble for Coach Earl Biederman.

Toronto, which ran only three plays in the first quarter, flashed an erratic offense lacking polish. However, the defense was more than adequate to stop Columbiana's ball carriers when necessary. The Red Knights sorely lack manpower.

Only 29 were dressed for the game and the squad lists only some 34. Several gridders were out with injuries last night.

Columbiana, while not scoring, did manage to penetrate to the Toronto 9-yard line late in the second period after recovering a fumble on the Toronto 26.

However, nine running plays carried only to the 9 and the Toronto line tightened and Columbiana lost the ball on downs.

Toronto was in possession when the game ended after Logan had intercepted one of several last-minute passes thrown by Columbiana's quarterback Baltz.

Irondale Loses, 6-0 To Adena In Preview

Irondale was dropped by Adena, 6-0, on a last - minute pass in the Steubenville football preview Friday night.

Bob Jones heaved the game-winning aerial to Steve Kokovich who scored the touchdown. Irondale had offensive troubles as it failed to produce a first down in 16 minutes of action. Nearly 9,000 attended.

Tough Slate Given Stress By Venditti

The rugged season ahead for East Liverpool's Potters was stressed by Coach Lou Venditti in a talk on the prospects of this year's football team before the Lions Club Friday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Venditti expressed concern over the lack of manpower and depth on this year's squad, while naming a starting lineup for the Sept. 12 opener with Akron St. Vincent, predicted to be one of the strongest teams the Potters will meet this season.

He introduced other members of the team's coaching staff, including Bob Hedmond, Ray Peduzzi and Nunzio Polishene.

Venditti pointed out that untried sophomores will be depended on to fill the gaps left when his regulars leave the game.

The film, "Meet The Potters," was shown. It was made possible through efforts of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The Lions' Board of Directors will meet Monday night at the Vagabond Lodge near the Crockery City Farms, Don Baxter, president, announced. The meeting will begin at 8.

Phoenix Giants Wrap Up Pacific Coast Flag

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Giants clinched the Pacific Coast League baseball pennant Friday night with a homer-studded 10-8 victory over Vancouver. The Giants hit three homers to bring their total for the year to 200.

The Giants lead the second-place San Diego Padres 3½ games with only 3 left for each to play. San Diego also won Friday night, defeating Salt Lake City 16-4.

14-14 Battle Kicks Off Area Grid Season

By ROB NIBLOCK

Two Hancock County grid rivals Chester and New Cumberland — battled to a 14-14 tie Friday night at Chester City Park as they launched the district's 1958 football season.

Some 1,200 fans looked on as Chester's only returning letterman from last year's powerhouse, fullback Don Shaw, punched across two first-half touchdowns.

New Cumberland, thirsting for revenge for last year's 35-0 defeat, scored its first touchdown in the second quarter and then rallied late in the game for the second marker that meant a tie.

—:—

WHILE New Cumberland didn't come up with a victory, the tie at least gave Coach Charlie Miller the satisfaction of ending an 11-game losing streak—one of the district's longest.

New Cumberland, a slight favorite at game time because of a dozen returning lettermen, flashed a fair running and passing game, but the defense failed to halt the slashing drives of Shaw, a 180-pound senior.

A power failure delayed the start of the game for nearly two hours. But the crowd, encouraged by the peppy bands, remained in good spirits while electricians searched for the short circuit that had darkened the stadium.

—:—

CHESTER drew first blood when it scored with 4:48 remaining in the first period after New Cumberland's running game had fizzled out on its own 25, Harris gambling on fourth down.

The Panthers took possession on the 20 and required only six plays to register, Shaw capping the drive with a three-yard plunge over the middle.

Ken Sayre converted the extra point on a run from scrimmage to make the score 7-0. West Virginia doesn't observe the new option rule now in effect in Ohio.

Following the kickoff, the Raiders began a touchdown march which started on their own 36 and spanned two periods of play. The drive of 64 yards was capped by fullback Phil Cullen who smashed over from the three.

Cullen, a speedster, had set up the score with a 32-yard jaunt off tackle before being pulled down from behind by tackle Steve Chapko on the three-yard stripe. Harris' kick for the extra point made the score 7-7 with 11:57 showing on the stadium clock.

However, Chester roared back in the second period when tackle Larry McSwegin pounced on a New Cumberland fumble on the 12-yard line and Shaw once more went into the end zone, this time taking only three plays to turn the trick.

SAYRE crashed over for the extra point, making the score 14-7 in favor of Chester just before halftime.

New Cumberland's final touchdown, which resulted in the tie ball game, came midway in the fourth period when Harris tossed a pass to Reese, who hauled it in on the four-yard line and Harris later ran the pigskin across. Harris then kicked the game - tieing point. The final touchdown drive of New Cumberland began on its own 43 after the Chester offense had bogged down.

Chester almost broke the deadlock after the final New Cumberland tally. The Panthers moved the ball from their own 36 to the New Cumberland 17, only to see victory slip through the hands of Shaw, who dropped a fourth down pass on the New Cumberland five-yard line with 1:28 remaining. The versatile fullback outmaneuvered the defense, but was unable to hold on to the well-placed Dave Brookes aerial.

New Cumberland, apparently content with the tie, ran out the clock with successive ground plays after taking over on the 17.

The Raiders had the first down edge, 10-9, with Harris' passing responsible for three of them. The capable quarterback completed three of eight forwards and ran well on the keeper.

Cullen and halfbacks Bill Freshnor and Bob Reese carried the running burden, playing nearly the entire contest without relief.

Shaw's running was outstanding for Chester, but he got good support from halfbacks Bill Mayhew and Sayre.

Quarterback Brookes kept the offense running smoothly, but failed to complete a pass in three attempts.

Coach Dom Amedeo appeared pleased with his charges after the game, commenting that they had done a good job considering the experience of the Raider eleven.

Virdon's Homer Did It

Bucs' George Witt Shuts Out Braves Second Time, 1-0

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves may have run away with the National League pennant, but they're getting no where fast against rookie right-hander George Witt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The champs have had two runins with the kid from Laguna Beach, Calif., and haven't scored a run off him yet.

Witt, 24, became the first to hang two shutouts on the Braves this season, by beating Milwaukee 1-0 Friday night with a five-hitter and Bill Virdon's leadoff home run in the 10th inning.

Witt's only other work against the Braves was a two-hit, 10-0 shutout August 12.

By out-scrapping Carl Willey, Witt hoisted the Bucs back into a second place tie with San Francisco, 8½ games behind the Braves. The Giants were idled by rain at Chicago.

Cincinnati rapped Philadelphia 8-4, and Los Angeles, held to three hits, defeated St. Louis 2-1 in the other NL games.

In the American League, Washington defeated first place New York 6-3, the Chicago White Sox, beat Cleveland 4-3, Boston clobbered Baltimore 10-2 and Detroit knocked off Kansas City 4-1.

Pitching for the first time in nine days because of an inflamed elbow, Witt walked four and struck out three, fanning Willey for all of them. Willey (9-5), who gave seven hits and walked four but left nine on base, struck out five, whiffing Witt four times.

The Dodgers got all their hits in the second inning off loser Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. Fred Kipp (6-4) won it with relief help, giving up the run in the second on three of the Cards' seven hits and an infield out.

Don Newcombe (6-11) won his fourth in a row, giving up nine of the Phils' dozen hits and beating Robin Roberts (14-13) for the second time in five days with Brooks Lawrence's relief help.

Brewer Posts 6th Straight; Yanks Beaten

By The Associated Press

Tom Brewer, one of the pitchers Boston hoped would provide a chance at the American League pennant, finally has come around to perk up the Red Sox' closing shot for second place.

The lean right-hander, just turned 27, didn't get started until after the All-Star game, when the Red Sox were already a dozen games behind first place New York. After winning 35 games in 1956-57, Brewer had won only three of 10 decisions for the first three months of the season.

Now, with the Sox running only a game and a half behind second place Chicago, Brewer has won six straight and seven of his last eight decisions.

Brewer padded his record to 11-10 Friday night, setting down Baltomore on four singles as Boston belted the Brids 10-2.

Washington blew a 3-0 lead, but beat the Yankees 6-3, the White Sox got past Cleveland 4-3 and Detroit rapped Kansas City 4-1 in the other AL games.

In the National League, rookie George Witt allowed but five hits as Pittsburgh defeated first place Milwaukee 1-0 in 10 innings. Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 2-1 and Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 3-4. San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs were rained out.

The Senators made it when Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren, now 6-4, walked in three runs with two out in the ninth. Roy Sievers' 35th home run and Albie Pearson's third, a two-run shot, gave the Nats their early lead against 20-game winner Bob Turley. But Russ Kemmerer, who had a no-hitter for five innings, finally was chased in the eighth, when the Yanks scored two for a tie. Dick Hyde (10-3) was the relief winner, and now has figured in more than half of Washington's 56 victories.

A pinch, two-run double by Sherm Lollar and a winning single by Jim Landis brought the White Sox from behind in the seventh inning against losing reliever Herb Score (2-3). Early Wynn (13-13) was the winner for a 4-0 record against his old mates.

The Tigers scored three runs in the first on Al Kaline's 14th homer and Frank Bolling's two-run double. Paul Foytack (12-11) then breezed with a five-hitter, winning three straight for the first time this season. Ned Garver (11-10) was the loser.

Waterford To Open Meet Monday

950 Horses Are On Hand For Sessions

With better horses on hand than ever before, Waterford Park officials today expressed optimism over the 48-day fall meeting which will get under way Monday at the track near Newell.

Both President James F. Edwards and Managing Director Horace Wade pointed to the latest improvements at the mile track in their predictions for a successful meet.

Post time for the first race will be at 2 p. m. daily.

During the session ahead, 18 important feature events, ranging in purses up to $7,500 and representing a disbursement of slightly less than $100,000, will be decided. The overall purse distribution will be just under $600,000.

During the past week hundreds of horses have made the trek here from such racing centers as Atlantic City, Cleveland, Detroit, Wheeling and even distant Canada. By the time the bugle sounds at approximately 1:50 on Monday afternoon for the running of the first race, there will be some 950 horses — absolute capacity — stabled on the grounds.

"This is the finest group of horses ever quartered at Waterford Park," Wade stated. "More than 55 race without a claiming price, and our major features should fill without any difficulty."

Among the newcomers are such well known stables as New Jersey's famed Bernadotte Farm, the O. G. Ranch from Florida, Frank Fitzgerald, Albert J. Lacoste, W. C. Spradley, Darwin E. Loveman, J. P. McCormick, the Bottom Bucket Stable from Florida and Ohio.

Among the jockeys will be Christ Rogers, R. L. 'Bobby" Strange, Oliver Cutshaw, R. J. Bright, Billy Anderson, Willie Downs, Francisco Saumell and Floyd Green.

"We feel sure that this approaching meeting, which opens Monday and continues through Nov. 1, will be the best in Waterford Park history," Edwards said. "We have the horses, we have the riders, and if racing fans support high class racing, then we are certain that we will set new standards for the state."

A SPOT OF TEA. Trainer John Tragni insists this isn't a "gag" shot, but that his English import Feraghan, a 4-year-old filly, really enjoys a cup of tea in the afternoon. Feraghan, one of the horses awaiting the start of the fall meet Monday at Waterford Park, was a stakes winner in England before being shipped to the United States.

Charles, Trying Ring Comeback, Starts New Job

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight boxing champion now trying a comeback, has started a new state job.

The Cincinnati Enquirer said today Gov. C. William O'Neill named Charles a safety inspector in the state industrial commission.

Charles said, "The fact that I took this new job does not mean that I am ending my comeback plans.

"I have a fight coming up on Sept. 28 at Juarez, Mexico, and hope to get some more after that."

He said the new post calls for him to visit the manual departments of schools in about 29 counties.

Charles, now 37, opened his comeback plans last Thursday with a 10-round decision over Johnny Harper at Fairmount, W. Va.

Charles won the heavyweight title in 1949 from Jersey Joe Walcott and Walcott took it back two years later with a seventh round knockout.

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Olympic Executive Committee is expected to announce tonight which of four American cities will receive approval to bid for the 1964 Olympics.

Vying for the right at Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis. The site selection committee met Friday night but refused to make any announcement until tonight when a news conference is to be held.

Regardless of which city is certified, there is no assurance that the United States will get the games.

Turnesa And Souchak Share Utah Open Lead

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A pair of New Yorkers, Jimmy Turnesa of Elsmford and Mike Souchak of Grossinger, led today going into the second round of the $17,000 Utah Open.

They had 64s in the initial round over the par 72 Salt Lake Country Club. Long-hitting Arnold Palmer of Alabrobe, Pa., had a 65 while 66s were carded by Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., and Don Whitt of Alameda, Calif.

Ohioan Co-Captain

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A senior from Mansfield, Ohio, Wilmer Fowler, has been named co-captain of Northwestern's football team. Fowler, a halfback, shares the honor with junior center Jim Andreotti of Chicago. They were named Friday.

U.S. Tennis In Bad Shape

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Think U. S. tennis is in bad shape?

Think no more.

It is.

Never before in the history of the national championships has the semifinal been an all-foreign affair.

Today, though, the semifinals pitted Ashley Cooper against his Australian Davis Cup teammate, Neale Fraser, and Mal Anderson, the defending champion from down under, against Ulf Schmidt of Sweden.

This is a tournament that started 77 years ago in Newport. There have been close calls in the past with three foreign aces in the semis. In fact, only last year, Herbie Flam was the only American able to make the penultimate round against the same three Aussie hatchet men.

This time Herbie, 30, and no longer playing seriously, was eliminated in the quarter-finals. Schmidt, an ex-U.S. indoor champion, beat him 7-5, 8-6, 8-6 Friday.

That left it up to Dick Savitt, another part-timer on the tennis circuit these days. The former Davis Cupper gave it a good try, but ran out of gas against Anderson, 18-16, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

The American gals, however, have been doing all right and have the semis of their division all to themselves. It was top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York against pert Mrs. Beverly Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Jeanne Arth of St. Paul against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

Miss Gibson, the defending champion, and Mrs. Fleitz got rid of the last two foreign threats Friday. Miss Gibson ousted towering Christine Truman of Britain 11-9, 6-1, and Mrs. Fleitz dropped Maria Ester Bueno of Brazil, 6-1, 6-2.

Bowling Green Grid Coach's Father Dies

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—David J. Perry, 74, father of Bowling Green State University's head football coach, Doyt Perry, died in Toledo Hospital Friday night after surgery.

Perry was born in Croton, Licking County, and retired 10 years ago as a salesman for the Blonders Paint Co. of Columbus.

His son, Doyt, was backfield coach for Ohio State University before taking the head football job at Bowling Green.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Croton Methodist Church.

Didn't Mind Heat

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—It was 96 in Tracy, but Bobby Bates, 41-year-old transient, nearly froze to death. He was asleep in an empty refrigerator car when the Tracy Ice and Development Co. dumped five tons of ice around Bobby through a chute. It took men with shovels an hour to dig Bates out.

Bears Notch 4th Straight

By The Associated Press

Looks as if all the Chicago Bears needed to get back the winning touch was the return of Papa Bear George Halas as head coach.

With owner Halas back at the full controls after a two-year retirement, the Bears have won four straight National Football League exhibitions. They stand as the only unbeaten club after Friday night's 24-17 victory over the Detroit Lions before 40,000 in Dallas.

A 62-yard pass play from Zeke Bratkowski to Harlon Hill set up the Bears' winning touchdown, scored on a short plunge by fullback Rick Casares in the fourth period. Detroit, winning two in NFL competition after losing to the College All-Stars, had tied the score 17-all in the third period on a 52-yard pass play from Bobby Layne to Jim Doran.

The other 10 NFL teams will see weekend action with four games today and one Sunday. Los Angeles meets the Chicago Cards at Seattle, and tonight, Washington faces Philadelphia in Jacksonville, Fla., New York meets Green Bay at Boston, and Pittsburgh and Baltimore play at Buffalo, N.Y. Cleveland is at San Francisco Sunday.

Lew Carpenter Will Start For Browns Sunday

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Lew Carpenter, who has been taking a back seat so far, probably will start at running halfback for the Cleveland Browns in Sunday's exhibition with the San Francisco 49ers.

Carpenter arrived at the Brown's training camp late after being released from Army reserve training. Billy Reynolds started in the exhibition against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Akron. Leroy Bolden and Billy Mitchell, both rookies, did a terrific job against the Detroit Lions, and Los Angeles Rams, respectively.

But, now Carpenter seems ready and he may be tough to move out of the half-back spot. He worked Friday in a backfield that included Jim Brown at fullback, Ray Renfro on the flanker, and Milt Plum at quarterback.

That's the quartet coach Paul Brown may shoot the works with this season in the National Football League.

Shirley Sprains Ankle

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Temple is nursing a sprained ankle suffered while rehearsing a dance sequence for a program in her NBC-TV fairy tale series. The former child movie star, now 30, in private life is Mrs. Charles Black, mother of three children.

Basilio Wants 'Sugar' Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Sure I wanna fight Sugar Ray Robinson again—but only if the money is right," said tough little Carmen Basilio after pounding dapper Art Aragon into a bloody, reeling derelict in eight savage rounds.

"I can fight either Robinson or Virgil Akins, but Robinson has to fight me," said Basilio, who knocked Aragon loose from everything but his celebrated sense of humor Friday night.

"Is this guy Basilio really a welterweight?" asked the badly cut Golden Boy in mock disbelief as he sat in his dressing room, sipping beer.

Truman Gibson, head of the International Boxing Club, said Robinson has agreed to defend the middleweight title he lifted from Basilio last March.

Aragon showed the Wrigley Field crowd of 22,500 and a national television audience he had plenty of heart but not the guns to stop the relentlessly punching Chittenango, N.Y., boxer.

The gross gate of $236,521.10 set a California record.

Basilio, former welterweight as well as former middleweight champion, opened with his jungle-style attack and didn't let up until Referee Tommy Hart pulled him from the battered Aragon at 1.27 of the eighth.

Hart moved just as Aragon's corner threw in a towel, traditional symbol of ring defeat.

"I didn't ask for the fight to be stopped," said Aaron, "but I didn't want to go 12 rounds with him, either." It was the first knockout in Aragon's 103-fight career.

Under California rules, the fight is ruled a knockout even though the referee didn't count Aragon out. Such a ruling is permitted when a referee decides one fighter is hopelessly beaten.

Like To Win 'Em As They Come, Buc Rookie Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I like to win them as they come," says right-handed pitcher George Witt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

And when Milwaukee comes to town, he wins them. He beat the Braves 1-0 in 10 innings Friday night on the strength of Bill Virdon's ninth home run of the year.

The victory moved the Pirates back into a second place tie with the San Francisco Giants. Both teams now trail the Braves by 8½ games.

Witt came off the bench after 10 days of inactivity to pitch his second straight shutout in his only two performances against the league-leading Braves. The victory also marked his sixth in a row this year.

Friday night's outing was the first for Witt since he suffered an inflamation of his right elbow Aug. 26.

Since then he has been taking heat pack treatments and was forced to miss two turns on the mound.

Witt's performance was typical for him against the Braves.

He now has pitched 19 consecutive scoreless innings and given up only seven hits to the world champions.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—George Witt, Pirates became first to shut out the Braves twice this season, taking a 1-0, 10-inning victory with a five-hitter.

Hitting—Bill Renna, Red Sox, drove in four runs with a pair of doubles in 10-2 victory over the Orioles.

Waterford To Open Meet Monday

950 Horses Are On Hand For Sessions

With better horses on hand than ever before, Waterford Park officials today expressed optimism over the 48-day fall meeting which will get under way Monday at the track near Newell.

Both President James F. Edwards and Managing Director Horace Wade pointed to the latest improvements at the mile track in their predictions for a successful meet.

Post time for the first race will be at 2 p. m. daily.

During the session ahead, 18 important feature events, ranging in purses up to $7,500 and representing a disbursement of slightly less than $100,000, will be decided. The overall purse distribution will be just under $600,000.

During the past week hundreds of horses have made the trek here from such racing centers as Atlantic City, Cleveland, Detroit, Wheeling and even distant Canada. By the time the bugle sounds at approximately 1:50 on Monday afternoon for the running of the first race, there will be some 950 horses — absolute capacity — stabled on the grounds.

"This is the finest group of horses ever quartered at Waterford Park," Wade stated. "More than 55 race without a claiming price, and our major features should fill without any difficulty."

Among the newcomers are such well known stables as New Jersey's famed Bernadotte Farm, the O. G. Ranch from Florida, Frank Fitzgerald, Albert J. Lacoste, W. C. Spradley, Darwin E. Loveman, J. P. McCormick, the Bottom Bucket Stable from Florida and Ohio.

Among the jockeys will be Christ Rogers, R. L. "Bobby" Strange, Oliver Cutshaw, R. J. Bright, Billy Anderson, Willie Downs, Francisco Saumell and Floyd Green.

"We feel sure that this approaching meeting, which opens Monday and continues through Nov. 1, will be the best in Waterford Park history," Edwards said. "We have the horses, we have the riders, and if racing fans support high class racing, then we are certain that we will set new standards for the state."

A SPOT OF TEA. Trainer John Tragni insists this isn't a "gag" shot, but that his English import Feraghan, a 4-year-old filly, really enjoys a cup of tea in the afternoon. Feraghan, one of the horses awaiting the start of the fall meet Monday at Waterford Park, was a stakes winner in England before being shipped to the United States.

Charles, Trying Ring Comeback, Starts New Job

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight boxing champion now trying a comeback, has started a new state job.

The Cincinnati Enquirer said today Gov. C. William O'Neill named Charles a safety inspector in the state industrial commission.

Charles said, "The fact that I took this new job does not mean that I am ending my comeback plans.

"I have a fight coming up on Sept. 28 at Juarez, Mexico, and hope to get some more after that."

He said the new post calls for him to visit the manual departments of schools in about 29 counties.

Charles, now 37, opened his comeback plans last Thursday with a 10-round decision over Johnny Harper at Fairmount, W. Va.

Charles won the heavyweight title in 1949 from Jersey Joe Walcott and Walcott took it back two years later with a seventh round knockout.

They had 64s in the initial round over the par 72 Salt Lake Country Club. Long-hitting Arnold Palmer of Alabrobe, Pa., had a 65 while 66s were carded by Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., and Don Whitt of Alameda, Calif.

U.S. Tennis In Bad Shape

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Think U. S. tennis is in bad shape?

Think no more.

It is.

Never before in the history of the national championships has the semifinal been an all-foreign affair.

Today, though, the semifinals pitted Ashley Cooper against his Australian Davis Cup teammate, Neale Fraser, and Mal Anderson, the defending champion from down under, against Ulf Schmidt of Sweden.

This is a tournament that started 77 years ago in Newport. There have been close calls in the past with three foreign aces in the semis. In fact, only last year, Herbie Flam was the only American able to make the penultimate round against the same three Aussie hatchet men.

This time Herbie, 30, and no longer playing seriously, was eliminated in the quarter-finals. Schmidt, an ex-U.S. indoor champion, beat him 7-5, 8-6, 8-6 Friday.

That left it up to Dick Savitt, another part-timer on the tennis circuit these days. The former Davis Cupper gave it a good try, but ran out of gas against Anderson, 18-16, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

The American gals, however, have been doing all right and have the semis of their division all to themselves. It was top-seeded Althea Gibson of New York against pert Mrs. Beverly Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Jeanne Arth of St. Paul against Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

Miss Gibson, the defending champion, and Mrs. Fleitz got rid of the last two foreign threats Friday. Miss Gibson ousted towering Christine Truman of Britain 11-9, 6-1, and Mrs. Fleitz dropped Maria Ester Bueno of Brazil, 6-1, 6-2.

Bowling Green Grid Coach's Father Dies

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —David J. Perry, 74, father of Bowling Green State University's head football coach, Doyt Perry, died in Toledo Hospital Friday night after surgery.

Perry was born in Croton, Licking County, and retired 10 years ago as a salesman for the Blonders Paint Co. of Columbus.

His son, Doyt, was backfield coach for Ohio State University before taking the head football job at Bowling Green.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Croton Methodist Church.

Didn't Mind Heat

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—It was 96 in Tracy, but Bobby Bates, 41-year-old transient, nearly froze to death. He was asleep in an empty refrigerator car when the Tracy Ice and Development Co. dumped five tons of ice around Bobby through a chute. It took men with shovels an hour to dig Bates out.

Bears Notch 4th Straight

By The Associated Press

Looks as if all the Chicago Bears needed to get back the winning touch was the return of Papa Bear George Halas as head coach.

With owner Halas back at the full controls after a two-year retirement, the Bears have won four straight National Football League exhibitions. They stand as the only unbeaten club after Friday night's 24-17 victory over the Detroit Lions before 40,000 in Dallas.

A 62-yard pass play from Zeke Bratkowski to Harlon Hill set up the Bears' winning touchdown, scored on a short plunge by fullback Rick Casares in the fourth period. Detroit, winning two in NFL competition after losing to the College All-Stars, had tied the score 17-all in the third period on a 52-yard pass play from Bobby Layne to Jim Doran.

The other 10 NFL teams will see weekend action with four games today and one Sunday. Los Angeles meets the Chicago Cards at Seattle, and tonight, Washington faces Philadelphia in Jacksonville, Fla., New York meets Green Bay at Boston, and Pittsburgh and Baltimore play at Buffalo, N.Y. Cleveland is at San Francisco Sunday.

Lew Carpenter Will Start For Browns Sunday

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Lew Carpenter, who has been taking a back seat so far, probably will start at running halfback for the Cleveland Browns in Sunday's exhibition with the San Francisco 49ers.

Carpenter arrived at the Brown's training camp late after being released from Army reserve training. Billy Reynolds started in the exhibition against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Akron. Leroy Bolden and Billy Mitchell, both rookies, did a terrific job against the Detroit Lions, and Los Angeles Rams, respectively.

But, now Carpenter seems ready and he may be tough to move out of the half-back spot. He worked Friday in a backfield that included Jim Brown at fullback, Ray Renfro on the flanker, and Milt Plum at quarterback.

That's the quartet coach Paul Brown may shoot the works with this season in the National Football League.

Shirley Sprains Ankle

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Temple is nursing a sprained ankle suffered while rehearsing a dance sequence for a program in her NBC-TV fairy tale series. The former child movie star, now 30, in private life is Mrs. Charles Black, mother of three children.

Basilio Wants 'Sugar' Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Sure I wanna fight Sugar Ray Robinson again—but only if the money is right," said tough little Carmen Basilio after pounding dapper Art Aragon into a bloody, reeling derelict in eight savage rounds.

"I can fight either Robinson or Virgil Akins, but Robinson has to fight me," said Basilio, who knocked Aragon loose from everything but his celebrated sense of humor Friday night.

"Is this guy Basilio really a welterweight?" asked the badly cut Golden Boy in mock disbelief as he sat in his dressing room, sipping beer.

Truman Gibson, head of the International Boxing Club, said Robinson has agreed to defend the middleweight title he lifted from Basilio last March.

Aragon showed the Wrigley Field crowd of 22,500 and a national television audience he had plenty of heart but not the guns to stop the relentlessly punching Chittenango, N.Y., boxer.

The gross gate of $236,521.10 set a California record.

Basilio, former welterweight as well as former middleweight champion, opened with his jungle-style attack and didn't let up until Referee Tommy Hart pulled him from the battered Aragon at 1.27 of the eighth.

Hart moved just as Aragon's corner threw in a towel, traditional symbol of ring defeat.

"I didn't ask for the fight to be stopped," said Aaron, "but I didn't want to go 12 rounds with him, either." It was the first knockout in Aragon's 103-fight career.

Under California rules, the fight is ruled a knockout even though the referee didn't count Aragon out. Such a ruling is permitted when a referee decides one fighter is hopelessly beaten.

Like To Win 'Em As They Come, Buc Rookie Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I like to win them as they come," says right-handed pitcher George Witt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

And when Milwaukee comes to town, he wins them. He beat the Braves 1-0 in 10 innings Friday night on the strength of Bill Virdon's ninth home run of the year.

The victory moved the Pirates back into a second place tie with the San Francisco Giants. Both teams now trail the Braves by 8½ games.

Witt came off the bench after 10 days of inactivity to pitch his second straight shutout in his only two performances against the league-leading Braves. The victory also marked his sixth in a row this year.

Friday night's outing was the first for Witt since he suffered an inflamation of his right elbow Aug. 26.

Since then he has been taking heat pack treatments and was forced to miss two turns on the mound.

Witt's performance was typical for him against the Braves.

He now has pitched 19 consecutive scoreless innings and given up only seven hits to the world champions.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—George Witt, Pirates became first to shut out the Braves twice this season, taking a 1-0, 10-inning victory with a five-hitter.

Hitting—Bill Renna, Red Sox, drove in four runs with a pair of doubles in 10-2 victory over the Orioles.

British Seen Not Doing Any Real Fishing

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's minister of fisheries says the British trawlers defying the new 12-mile limit around this North Atlantic island are not doing any real fishing.

"They're just wasting their time," Ludvik Josepsson said Friday night after touring three areas where British gunboats are watching over the trawlers.

The coast guard said it had intercepted messages between trawlers and the gunboats indicating the fishermen were fed up with poor catches and might leave soon for better waters. Increased concentrations of Icelandic Coast Guard gunboats were doing all they could to encourage such a decision by conducting a war of nerves against the trawlers.

The Icelandic vessels are making raids on trawlers, steaming in close to them as if to put on boarders to arrest the fishermen on poaching charges. When a British frigate races to the rescue, the Icelandic vessel goes off and applies the same threatening tactics against another trawler.

Iceland declared last Monday an extension of her territorial waters from 3 to 12 miles from the rocky headlands in order to protect her fishing grounds for Icelandic fishermen. Britain sent in the trawlers with Royal Navy protection to maintain her traditional fishing rights in the area.

Actress Admits Red Ties In 40s But Then Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actress Olivia Dehavilland says she belonged innocently to a Hollywood Red front organization in the 1940s, but quit when she realized its Communist nature.

"Three months later the organization went out of existence, and I think I had a great deal to do with it," she testified.

The actress told her story to the House Committee on Un-American activities last June 16. The committee made the testimony public Friday after the Los Angeles Herald-Express published portions of it.

In Paris, Miss Dehavilland commented that the hearing "was just a formality in connection with the extension of my citizenship."

She is now the wife of Pierre Gallante, a Paris magazine editor. Born in Japan of British parents, she became a U.S. citizen in 1941. As a naturalized citizen she needed special permission to continue living in Paris without losing her U.S. citizenship.

The questioned organization was the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, which the House committee and the California State Senate have since cited as subversive.

3 Children In Cleveland Perish In Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three small children were burned to death in a fire members of the arson squad said was set by a 5-year-old brother Friday night.

The blaze which destroyed the third floor attic apartment on the east side claimed the lives of Marilyn and Marion Clemons, 2-year-old twins, and Elmyria Clemons, 8 months.

Members of the arson squad said a brother, Rudolph Jr., admitted playing with matches and starting the fire. They said a sister, Lillian, 4, also was with him.

The fire started in the frame building after the father said he had put the five children to bed and left to visit a neighbor. His wife already was at the neighbor's residence.

Returning home, Clemons said he saw flames shooting out of the windows of his apartment. He ran to call firemen. The blaze was extinguished five minutes after firemen arrived.

Fire officials said Rudolph Jr. and Lillian ran from the house as flames whipped through the apartment. They were unhurt.

Damage was estimated at $5,000.

British Seen Not Doing Any Real Fishing

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's minister of fisheries says the British trawlers defying the new 12-mile limit around this North Atlantic island are not doing any real fishing.

"They're just wasting their time," Ludvik Josepsson said Friday night after touring three areas where British gunboats are watching over the trawlers.

The coast guard said it had intercepted messages between trawlers and the gunboats indicating the fishermen were fed up with poor catches and might leave soon for better waters. Increased concentrations of Icelandic Coast Guard gunboats were doing all they could to encourage such a decision by conducting a war of nerves against the trawlers.

The Icelandic vessels are making raids on trawlers, steaming in close to them as if to put on boarders to arrest the fishermen on poaching charges. When a British frigate races to the rescue, the Icelandic vessel goes off and applies the same threatening tactics against another trawler.

Iceland declared last Monday an extension of her territorial waters from 3 to 12 miles from the rocky headlands in order to protect her fishing grounds for Icelandic fishermen. Britain sent in the trawlers with Royal Navy protection to maintain her traditional fishing rights in the area.

Actress Admits Red Ties In 40s But Then Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actress Olivia Dehavilland says she belonged innocently to a Hollywood Red front organization in the 1940s, but quit when she realized its Communist nature.

"Three months later the organization went out of existence, and I think I had a great deal to do with it," she testified.

The actress told her story to the House Committee on Un-American activities last June 16. The committee made the testimony public Friday after the Los Angeles Herald-Express published portions of it.

In Paris, Miss Dehavilland commented that the hearing "was just a formality in connection with the extension of my citizenship."

She is now the wife of Pierre Gallante, a Paris magazine editor. Born in Japan of British parents, she became a U.S. citizen in 1941. As a naturalized citizen she needed special permission to continue living in Paris without losing her U.S. citizenship.

The questioned organization was the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, which the House committee and the California State Senate have since cited as subversive.

Plumbers Unit Pledges Aid For Ware Walkout

The United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry has promised co-operation with the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in a 4 - month-old strike of IBOP members against the Crane Co. in Trenton, N. J., a manufacturer of sanitary ware.

The allege the company attempted to negotiate for a decrease in wages, coupled with a boost in production. The strikers are members of IBOP Locals 45 and 49.

3 Children In Cleveland Perish In Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three small children were burned to death in a fire members of the arson squad said was set by a 5-year-old brother Friday night.

The blaze which destroyed the third floor attic apartment on the east side claimed the lives of Marilyn and Marion Clemons, 2-year-old twins, and Elmyria Clemons, 8 months.

Members of the arson squad said a brother, Rudolph Jr., admitted playing with matches and starting the fire. They said a sister, Lillian, 4, also was with him.

The fire started in the frame building after the father said he had put the five children to bed and left to visit a neighbor. His wife already was at the neighbor's residence.

Returning home, Clemons said he saw flames shooting out of the windows of his apartment. He ran to call firemen. The blaze was extinguished five minutes after firemen arrived.

Fire officials said Rudolph Jr. and Lillian ran from the house as flames whipped through the apartment. They were unhurt.

Damage was estimated at $5,000.
